Prospects Are Good For Point Hospital

A special presidential committee on Tuesday recommended that the Veterans Administration keep open five of the 11 hospitals it planned to close, including Castle Point, Beacon, the Associated Press reported.

Chamber Favors Uptown UR, Urges Hearing Turnout

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, by resolution, approved the Kingston Uptown Urban Renewal project and urged a large attendance and public support at the hearing on the question Thursday night in the City Hall. The endorsement of the Broadway-East project was also reaffirmed and satisfaction expressed over the fact that both projects are to be carried on simultaneously.

A very optimistic membership progress report was also given for William R. Stall, chairman of the Chamber's Membership Committee at the directors' meeting Tuesday night. To date the receipt of eleven sustaining memberships, at $350 each; 13 booster memberships at $100 and 177 memberships at the basic rate, were reported. The fiscal year started on May 1 and renewals are now payable. It is anticipated that the increased support will place the Chamber on a sound fiscal basis.

The Miss New York Pageant held here annually also received considerable attention. Plans were launched to obtain more community support for this major state-wide promotional project. Harry Rigby Jr., of the State of New York National Bank, was appointed as a director of the Pageant to fill the unexpired term of Charles Turner, former manager of Wallace's who left the Kingston area. Chamber president Harry Kaprelian, who was out of town and could not attend the meeting, will be asked to appoint a special committee to work and assist the Pageant.

Lawrence A. Jensen, chairman of the Chamber's Education Committee, reported that plans for celebrating Teacher Recognition Day on May 18 are underway. Details will be soon announced.

George Svirsky, first vice-president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, presided at Tuesday's meeting in the absence of President Kaprelian.

Lindsay Weighs Race, Wawarsing Speaker

The possible opponent of Mayor Robert F. Wagner in November's mayoralty race in New York City will address the Town of Wawarsing Republican Party "Republican Night" program, it was announced today.

Congressman John V. Lindsay from New York City's 17th Congressional District, will appear Sunday, May 23, during the program at the Nevele Country Club in Ellenville.

Announcement was made today by Ronald W. Elias, chairman of the special events committee of the Town of Wawarsing GOP group.

Rep. Lindsay, who refused to support Senator Barry M. Goldwater for President last year, was reelected in Manhattan's 17th (Silk Stocking) Congressional District by more than 90,000 votes.

His possible entrance into the mayoralty campaign was heightened today with the announcement that he was considering the race for the Republican nomination.

The New York Times reported this morning that Robert Price, who has managed all of Lindsay's campaign and is one of his

The committee also recommended keeping open two of four VA rest homes tabbed for closing.

The group was appointed by President Johnson to look into the situation after loud protests were raised in Congress over the planned closings.

One More Hurdle Overcome
The blue-ribbon committee recommended that the VA keep open hospitals in Bath and Castle Point in New York; Grand Junction, Colo.; Lincoln, Neb.; and Miles City, Mont.

The hospitals the committee agreed should be closed include Sunmount at Tupper Lake.

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville (D-28th District) said today.

"I am delighted with this great news. This is not a final decision but it is one more hurdle we have successfully overcome. If President Johnson decides to follow the recommendations of the blue-ribbon commission and keep Castle Point open, I will then propose ideas to the Congress to utilize the hospital to its fullest potential. Full use of the hospital will make Castle Point indispensable to the life of the area."

Lauds Fighters
"This is one more instance which shows you can fight city hall, if you believe you are right. All the people who worked so hard to keep the hospital open can be proud today."

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., said in Concord Tuesday night the committee proposed at least one VA regional office be maintained in each state. The VA also wants to close 17 regional offices.

Passes $23.5 Million
Also Tuesday, the House passed a proposal to add $23.5 million to an omnibus appropriation bill to keep all 15 facilities open. The action must still be reviewed by the Senate.

However, the money proposal is permissive rather than directive, and the funds would not necessarily have to be spent.

The VA proposed the closings for economy reasons and to put more modern hospitals near urban centers and medical schools. Critics asserted the changes would inconvenience many veterans who live far from the urban centers.

The $14,109,908,000 money bill which goes to the Senate includes $5,686,692,000 for the VA.

Closest political associates, had confirmed the congressman's change of attitude.

Lindsay, who withdrew from the contest on March 1, "is deeply troubled about the condition of the city and believes it is his responsibility to offer the people a viable alternative to what they now have at City Hall."

Price told the New York Times when asked about rumors that Lindsay was reconsidering.

Rep. Lindsay, however, could not be reached for comment.

Meanwhile, other political sources said Tuesday that they believed Lindsay would run and that he would announce his decision to do so within the next few days. These sources said that influential Republicans—including Gov. Rockefeller, Senator Jacob K. Javits and Vincent F. Albano Jr., Manhattan Republican leader—had been urging Lindsay to make the race.

Lindsay, after serving as executive assistant to Attorney General Herbert Brownell in the Eisenhower Administration, ran for Congress in 1958 and won by 7,700 votes. His margin increased to 27,000 in 1960 and to 52,000 heat and humidity early this week set area resi-

A grand jury investigation will get underway soon the slaying of a prisoner at the Green Haven Prison, Stormville, Sunday afternoon.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta of Dutchess County, said he is conducting a thorough investigation of the death of Claude Lee Henderson, 30, of Pine Island, Orange County.

Henderson was slain in the mess hall of the state prison in eastern Dutchess County. He was under sentence of 4 to 10 years imposed by Ulster County Judge Raymond J. Mino for a third degree robbery conviction. (Continued on Page 34, Col. 4)

Future Uncertain As Senate to Vote On Death Penalty

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democrats triggered a showdown vote in the Senate today on the sensitive issue of abolishing capital punishment in New York State.

Only Two Exceptions
The bill sponsored by Brooklyn Democrat Edward Lento would retain the death penalty only when a police officer was killed in line of duty or when a convict serving a life sentence committed a murder in prison.

Otherwise, the measure would end capital punishment, which may be imposed now for murder, treason or kidnapping.

Prospects for passage were uncertain.

The bill was among a series of controversial issues aired in the Legislature during a busy work week on Capitol Hill. In other developments:

The sponsor of legislation proposing to tighten the code of ethics for members of the Legislature and their employees reported he had won over enough votes to revive and pass the measures defeated in the Assembly last week.

Lento's bill seeking to end the death penalty was not a party policy measure but had warm support from fellow Democrats.

50-50 Chance: Zaretski

He had tried for many years to bring the measure to a vote, but previous, Republican-ruled Legislatures had routed his bill into committee pigeon holes.

Republicans were expected to provide the bulk of opposition in today's debate on the issue, arguing that the death penalty should be retained as a deterrent to taking human life.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretski gave the bill a 50-50 chance of passage in his house. And Speaker Anthony J. Travia assessed prospects in the Assembly as no better than fair.

Defeat of the measure in the Senate would make Assembly action pointless.

Subpoenas Prepared, Not Signed

Carroll Points To Schwenk Veto

Although Corporation Counsel Harry Gold has prepared necessary subpoenas in support of a requested investigation of recent fire board action favoring a career plan for paid firemen, the subpoenas have not been signed by Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr., and consequently have not been served.

Saturday, May 15, has been fixed as the date of the hearing which is scheduled to be conducted in the common council chambers, City Hall, starting at 10 a. m.

It is required that the president of the board of aldermen sign the subpoenas after they have been prepared by the corporation counsel.

'Not Necessary': Carroll

Asked today whether the subpoenas had been served, Alderman-at-Large Carroll, stated they had not been served nor had he signed them.

"Based on the veto of Mayor Schwenk and the opinion of the corporation counsel, I think it is unnecessary in as-much as Mayor or Schwenk's veto has listed the reasons," commented Carroll as to his reason for not signing the subpoenas.

Alderman Edward Norton (D), Seventh Ward, at the April meeting of the common council, asked for an investigation of fire board action on the career plan proposal to determine if there were irregularities, based on such conditions as reported change of opinion by one fire commissioner, the closing of Cornell Fire Station, and rumors that some board members had intended to resign.

Veto Announced May 7

Mayor John J. Schwenk on May 7 announced his veto of a motion calling for the common council investigation of the fire board action in support of a career plan for fire department personnel.

Alderman Norton has sent a letter to Corporation Counsel Gold asking him if the subpoenas have been signed and all necessary arrangements have been made to proceed with the May 15 hearing.

Corporation Counsel Gold noted today that he had prepared the subpoenas.

Russians Hope Soft Landing To Help Data

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet spaceship Lunik 5 hurtled toward a rendezvous with the moon tonight. The Russians hoped it would land gently and start sending back information needed for a manned flight to the moon.

The 3,250-pound spacecraft, launched Sunday from an orbiting earth satellite, was expected to come down gently near the moon's south pole on a plain known as the Sea of Clouds.

Time Table Given

The official news agency Tass said that at 2 a. m. Moscow time — 6 p. m. EST Tuesday — Lunik 5 was 29,000 miles from the moon and 206,250 miles from the earth. Tass said it would reach the moon about 10:15 p. m. — 2:15 p. m. EST.

The United States does not plan to soft-land an instrument package on the moon until 1966.

Two Big Steps
If Lunik 5 succeeds in letting itself down gently on the moon's surface, it will take two big steps forward in the space race:

1. It can sit on the surface and radio back to earth data of a kind that it has not been possible to obtain from photographs made by craft that crashed into the moon.

2. It will show whether a man can land on the moon with presently available types of space systems.

Tass said that "elements of the system of soft landing on the moon are being tried out for the first time on the automatic station Lunik 5."

An earlier version of this announcement said only that the spacecraft carried equipment for a soft landing.

Rebel Chief Vows Firm Santo Stand

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Col. Francisco Caamano Deno met a U.S. representative for the first time since the Dominican rebels named him provisional president, then vowed Tuesday night he would not "take a step backward."

Caamano conferred at his headquarters with former Ambassador John Barlow Martin, President Johnson's special envoy. The talk aroused speculation that the rebel leader would meet soon with Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, president of the rival civilian-military junta.

Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, papal nuncio to the Dominican Republic, sat in on the talk between Caamano and Martin and said later he was "highly optimistic" of settlement of the 17-day-old civil war.

Derides Junta

Caamano, however, in an address over the rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo said: "I will not take a step backward in spite of the enormous U.S. force."

He derided the junta as "an inoperative force" and charged anew that President Johnson sent 20,000 soldiers and Marines to the Dominican Republic on the false assumption that the country was threatened by a Communist takeover.

Caamano has refused to meet with Imbert until he purges several leading officers from the armed forces. His chief foe is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessing Wessing, commander of the San Isidro training base, who directed the forces that opposed Caamano's rebel forces.

U.S. Embassy officials said Monday that Wessing had agreed to resign but later changed his mind. Imbert said Tuesday he would accept Wessing's resignation "if it is his wish."

The unofficial total of American dead in the Dominican Republic rose to 14.

He said the demonstration was organized for four purposes, which he put this way:

"To express the sincere desire of the American people for a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam."

"To express concern at escalation of the war, especially U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam."

"To support and encourage President Johnson in a program of international cooperation for human welfare and economic development in Southeast Asia."

Interfaith Group To Oppose Bombs By U.S. in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — An interfaith group planned to march across the Potomac today and stand outside the Pentagon in a silent vigil disapproving the bombing of North Viet Nam and urging a peaceful settlement.

In advance of the march, leaders estimated as many as 500 to 1,000 clergymen and others from around the country might join in the demonstration.

After a morning meeting at a Washington Methodist church, the marchers were to set out on a walk of 3 1/2 or 4 miles to the giant Defense Department headquarters in northern Virginia, just outside the capital.

To Stand All Day

They intended to line up and stand there all day, facing entrances where the top brass come and go.

The vigil was organized by a group calling itself the "Interreligious Committee on Viet Nam." A spokesman said it is composed of Protestants, Jewish and Roman Catholic clergymen and theologians.

A spokesman said a call went out two weeks ago to representatives of all faiths and colors.

Dr. King Included

The new setup would be a partnership between the Socialists and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats, who have dominated the country ever since West Germany acquired its own government after World War II. The Socialists have not held a national Cabinet post since before Adolf Hitler took power in the early 1930s.

A shift probably would mean Brandt's taking over either the chancellorship or the Foreign Ministry this fall. He now is mayor of West Berlin.

Airborne, Marines Join Fray

46,500 From U.S. In Cong War Now

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Nearly 1,000 U.S. Army paratroopers and another combat battalion of 1,400 U.S. Marines landed in South Viet Nam today.

Land South of Da Nang

The paratroopers are members of the 173rd Airborne Brigade who came by boat from Okinawa to join about 2,000 members of the brigade already in Viet Nam. A U.S. spokesman said they would help defend American installations at the Bien Hoa air base 20 miles north of Saigon.

The Marines landed at Chu Lai, 52 miles southeast of the base at Da Nang. They boosted strategic U.S.-Vietnamese air base at Da Nang. They boosted to 14,000 the force of leather-necks thrown into the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The Marine landing lacked the usual fanfare of pretty girls with flowers and official welcoming parties. A spokesman called it a "routine administrative affair."

The new arrivals raised the total U.S. military force in Viet Nam to about 46,500 men.

The paratroopers included an artillery battalion which its commander, Lt. Col. Lee E. Surut, 40, of New York City, said would be the Army's "largest single concentration of firepower in the country." He said it is the first Army artillery sent to Viet Nam.

Start Patrol Activity
Other men of the brigade who arrived last week already have started some patrol activity in the vicinity of the Bien Hoa base but have not pushed out into the countryside. No contact with the Viet Cong has been reported.

Twelve U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers supported by 12 other planes attacked targets along five highways 160 miles south of Hanoi and then hit the North Vietnamese port of Vinh.

A spokesman said buildings, trenches and a number of oil tankers and other maritime traffic in the harbor of Vinh were hit, then the Thunderchiefs on a second strike sank two 70-foot junks, heavily damaged a third and shot up a number of barges and railroad boxcars. All the planes returned safely, the spokesman said.

About 5,000 Marines are now concentrated at Chu Lai. U.S. Seabees are to build an 8,000-foot jet airstrip there for two Marine attack squadrons that will give added air muscle in central Viet Nam.

Before the landing, one Marine on guard duty was wounded as the Viet Cong harassed the Marine positions. No Communist activity was reported during the landing.

Now on Okinawa
The landing heightened speculation that the entire 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa eventually would be committed to the fight against the Viet Cong.

The Chu Lai Marines, now up to regimental strength, are expected to begin ranging the countryside in search of Communists.

New Setup May Give Brandt Party Power

BONN, Germany (AP) — A new political pattern may be emerging in West Germany to give Willy Brandt and his Socialist party their first taste of national power in over a generation.

The new setup would be a partnership between the Socialists and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats, who have dominated the country ever since West Germany acquired its own government after World War II. The Socialists have not held a national Cabinet post since before Adolf Hitler took power in the early 1930s.

A shift probably would mean Brandt's taking over either the chancellorship or the Foreign Ministry this fall. He now is mayor of West Berlin.

Many Christian Democrats

oppose such a partnership, particularly ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who still is the nominal party leader. But they may be forced into it, and Erhard has tried not to shut the door on it.

Just this kind of partnership seems to be forming in Lower Saxony, one of West Germany's largest states. Under the parliamentary system practiced there, coalitions are necessary when no single party controls a clear majority in the legislature.

The same system applies on state and national levels.

In Lower Saxony the Socialists happen to be the biggest party, but they have no majority. They have been governing with the help of the smaller Free Democratic party.

Hold Ellenville Youth on Charge Of Taking Auto

Accused of stealing a 1959 car from a parking lot and wrecking it, George M. Cathcart, 19, of Ellenville, was arrested Tuesday by State and village police on a charge of second degree grand larceny.

Police Chief Abe Rand said Cathcart allegedly took a car owned by Dale Froling of Main Street, Ellenville, from a parking lot. Rand said the youth drove the vehicle down the Nevele Country Club Road and as he turned to avoid a squirrel he lost control and the car hit an embankment.

Troopers picked up the youth and turned him over to Ellenville police.

Cathcart waived preliminary examination at arraignment before Acting Police Judge Charles J. Piluso, who committed the youth to the Ulster County jail to await action of the grand jury.

Other Bills

Solons Outlaw Glue-Sniffing

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Bills moving through the Legislature would have public school boards loan textbooks to pupils of private schools, set state standards for local policemen and outlaw glue-sniffing by thrill-seeking youngsters.

Those were among the scores of bills lawmakers dealt with Tuesday.

By a vote of 117-29, assemblymen lined up behind a Democratic-backed bill to require the public school boards to loan science, mathematics and language textbooks to parochial and private school pupils.

Goes to Senate
Opposition to the controversial proposal came from reform Democrats and Republicans who argued the measure would violate the state constitutional mandate for separation of church and state.

The measure was sent to the Senate along with one to set age and other qualifications for local police officers. The latter measure, approved 107-39 by the Assembly, would apply to counties, cities, towns and villages outside New York City.

The Senate, meanwhile, approved without debate a bill to make it an offense to inhale glue vapor to become intoxicated, and a misdemeanor to sell glue for such a purpose.

In other action, the Assembly: —Rejected a proposal to empower local school boards to ban fraternities, sororities and secret societies in public schools.

—Approved a bill to repeal an education law that authorizes the state to withhold aid from school districts that are subject to a statewide reorganization plan to consolidate smaller districts into larger ones.

—Gave final approval to a bill to require trading-stamp companies to register with the secretary of state and post bond of up to $150,000.

—Supported a proposal to allow local health departments, under state supervision, to administer drugs to drug addicts.

Would Vaccinate All
—Passed a bill to require all school children to be vaccinated against polio.

The textbook measure would require education boards and trustees of school districts to furnish the books upon request of the private school pupils and at public expense. The books would have to be approved by the state education commissioner.

The measure on police standards would set age limits of 21 through 29 for civil service appointees to police departments. To meet the age requirement, veterans could subtract from their age the years they spent in military service.

Critics said localities should be allowed to select policemen on their terms. Mrs. Constance Cook, R-Tompkins, however, disagreed.

She said law-enforcement was among the most pressing problems in the nation and the proposed standards would improve the quality of policemen in New York State.

Young Pilot Does Fine

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A 17-year-old pilot landed his T34 trainer plane without incident on a foam-covered runway at Tinker Air Force Base Tuesday after the craft developed landing gear trouble.

Veterans who witnessed the landing by Albie Caudell, son of Air Force Sgt. William C. Caudell, said it was nearly perfect. The elder Caudell is manager of the base's Tinker Aero Club, a civilian organization permitted to borrow military craft for training.

Young Caudell, a senior at suburban Del City, has had his pilot's license 11 months.

Red China Still Shelling Quemoy On Old Pattern

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Whatever attention Communist China is paying its other frontiers, it is not forgetting Quemoy, the Nationalist island just off the Chinese mainland.

Peking's forces ordinarily bombard the island on odd-numbered days and refrain from shelling it on even-numbered days, in accord with an announced pattern. But over the years there have been nearly 500 lapses from shelling on odd-numbered days.

The Communists have made no new attempt to crush Quemoy since their massive effort in the summer of 1958.

But there have been some flareups, including massive bombardments which marked President Dwight D. Eisenhower's visit to Formosa in June 1960.

Since the big eruption in 1958, Communist shelling of Quemoy has had two main objectives—harassment and propaganda.

More than half the shells fired carry only enough explosives to burst them and scatter leaflets.

In the first four months of this year the Communists, by Nationalist count, have fired an average of 666 shells a month at Quemoy and its satellite islands.

Upward of 70,000 troops garrison the Quemoy Islands, which have a total area of about 57 square miles and a civilian population of about 50,000.

Quemoy, which the Chinese call Kinmen, meaning "Golden Gate," accounts for 50.5 square miles of the area.

Quemoy in 1949 had to import practically all its food. It still has to get rice from Formosa but is self-sufficient in vegetables, fish, poultry, fruit and pigs.

One of the strangest things about the most heavily shelled island in the world is its grip as a tourist attraction.

The Defense Ministry cannot come with the demand by foreigners and Chinese for passage to the island.

Hopes That Gold Claim Puts Him Through College

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Steve Deakins is going back to Alaska Thursday — to work a gold-mining claim he hopes will yield enough to put him through college.

Deakins, 20, is joint owner of the claim, near Anchorage, with Ed Bowers, a geologist and licensed prospector and a friend of the Deakins family.

"We traveled around Alaska and the Yukon before staking the claim," he said. "The United States and Canada have an agreement that allows Americans to file claims in the Yukon and Canadians to prospect on American soil."

Bowers previously had a claim but last year's earthquake destroyed it. He returned with Deakins to start work from scratch.

Deakins says he will be in Alaska about 4½ months this year. He and Bowers hope to build a cabin while working their claim.

He plans to return to Georgia next winter and enter college where he would like to major in geology and then go back to Alaska.

Deakins says: "Many kids go right to college without being really sure of what they want to do. That's when a lot of them begin flunking out. I think I will be better prepared by waiting."

Claim jumpers? They're no problem, reports Deakins. There is nobody around particularly interested in "jumping," he said.

The son of a minister, the Rev. H. B. Deakins of Olive Springs Baptist church in Marietta, the younger Deakins attended Osborne High School.

Shrub Donated To School by Lions Members

Arbor Day was celebrated at Hurley School Friday during a presentation of a shrub to the school by Hurley Lions Club.

After singing America and stating the pledge to the Flag by the student body, a poem, "Little Things That Help," was recited by Arthur Carr. America the Beautiful was sung followed by a poem, "What Do We Plant?" by Virginia Johnson, Tommy Reynolds and Nancy Gogg.

Joanne Ten Eyck and Carol Carpino sang a duet, "Trees, Musical Selections, Stars and Stripes Forever and the March of the Crusades were played by Caroline Odell, Ivan Fernandez and Catherine Brito.

Russell D. Cole, president of the Hurley Lions Club, presented the shrub to the school. The shrub obtained by the Lions' Agriculture Committee. Cole spoke on the history of Arbor Day.

Among his comments were: "In most states of the United States a special day is set aside each year for the planting of trees like this. A day to add to the beauty of our land. Here, in Hurley, where we have so many trees it may not seem necessary. But how many of you have been in the western part of our country? There you can go for miles and miles without seeing a tree. In fact it was out that way in the state of Nebraska that Arbor day was started. In the early days of that state people coming from the East missed the trees that they were used to around our mountains and streams. So each spring they would plant trees in their new villages and around their new homes. Finally, in 1872, the governor set aside a special day to plant trees and called it Arbor Day. It was a real celebration day—parades were held, picnics, and best of all—the schools were closed."

In that first year in Nebraska more than a million trees were planted. During the next 12 years more than 350 million trees were planted. People were starved for the beauty that we take for granted here. As time went on many states which had large numbers of trees found that they were using them up faster than they were growing new ones. They began to understand the importance of trees—not only for the wood to build houses and ships—but that they were necessary to protect the soil. With these facts in mind interest was aroused throughout the country for Arbor day and the planting of trees. Further, this interest spread to other countries around the world. Today an Arbor day is celebrated in Canada, Ireland, England, New Zealand, Australia, and other countries.

Arbor day is not like the 4th of July. It doesn't fall on the same day all over the country. In the south it is in January or February, in Washington, D. C., it is in April, here in New York it is in May—Michigan it is in June. It all depends upon when the earth gets warm enough for trees to be planted and grow. The governors of the various states determines each year the day that is to be Arbor day in his state."

Democrats Predict Off-Track Betting Will Pass in Future

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democratic leaders predict their off-track, horse race betting plan for new government revenues eventually will become law, despite its crushing defeat in the Senate.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki predicted passage of the controversial gambling plan "not too far in the future."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, leading advocate of the proposal concurred. The off-track betting proposal, long one of the Democrats' chief legislative goals, was defeated by a vote of 36-20 after three hours of debate in the Senate Tuesday.

The measure would have applied only to New York City, if voters there approved it at a idea by a margin of more than referendum. They favored the idea by a margin of more than 3-1 in an unofficial referendum in 1963.

Under the defeated measure, the city would have operated betting parlors where wagers could have been placed on horse races at tracks in and outside of the state.

The city and the state would have shared a 15 per cent tax on the betting. Wagner estimated the total tax at $200 million a year.

When the bill came to a vote, however, the Democratic majority in the Senate split and 12 Democrats joined all 24 Republicans present to kill the bill.

Sen. Thomas Mackell, D-

Queens, sponsor of the measure, argued that legalized, off-track betting would drive illegal bookmakers out of business.

Republicans argued that easily accessible gambling would drain money from low income families.

Sen. George Metcalf, R - Auburn, told the majority members "you are building a monster, this is an invidious plan that seeks to suck the blood from the poor."

Zaretzki said that approval of an off-track plan was inevitable in view of the continuing need for more state revenues.

He predicted the state would see the legalization of betting on dog racing and jai-alai, as well as horse racing.

Democrats who voted against the off-track betting bill were Owen Begley of Schenectady, Max Berkling and Royal Letson of Westchester, John Doerr and Bertrand Hoak of Erie, Earl Boyle of Syracuse, Julian E. way of Albany, John Quinn of Plattsburgh, F. Warren Travers of Troy and Abraham Bernstein, Harry Kraf and Ivan Warner, all of the Bronx.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK

Solidly earned tribute and recognition is being paid our local hospitals during the current observance of National Hospital Week. This is as it should be because our hospitals are endeavoring to provide the best possible personal service to the people of the community.

Because of the development of modern surgical techniques and increasingly complex methods of diagnosis and treatment, the hospital is a basic medical facility for the entire community. More and more, the hospital is becoming the focal point for the medical care of the community. This is indicated in the erection of the wing at the Kingston Hospital and the building fund campaign of the Benedictine Hospital for a new wing and the renovation of those outmoded areas which can be rehabilitated feasibly. These increases in the number of facilities and services are for the people of the area who are making greater use of the hospitals.

In order to provide the vital service needed to bring the people back to health, the hospitals must have the whole-hearted support of the people they serve. In this partnership between hospital and community, the people must come forward and help the hospitals' program and goals. The immediate need for additional hospital beds is apparent.

Personal service as a volunteer worker at the hospital and as a campaign fund solicitor and contributor are two ways in which we can help the hospitals.

The welfare of the hospitals is a responsibility the residents of this area can neglect at their peril. Let's not take the hospitals for granted.

NEW WATCHDOG AT WORK

The decision of the Organization of American States to send an inter-American peace-keeping force to the Dominican Republic is a long step toward building that organization into something more than a debating society.

Although five of the largest nations—Chile, Ecuador, Mexico, Peru and Uruguay—voted against the proposal and Venezuela abstained, and although it is more an emergency prescription against the symptoms than the causes of the political sickness racking the Dominican Republic, it sets a far-reaching precedent.

If the United States can no longer employ the gunboat diplomacy of the 19th century and act as the hemisphere's policeman, as our sister republics repeatedly tell us, then the only alternative is for them to accept the fact that the responsibility for what goes on in the hemisphere belongs to all of them.

The vote of the OAS on the Dominican question shows that 14 of the 20 member states realize this.

At the least, the inter-American police force will hold a lid on the bloodshed in the Dominican Republic and allow the United States to withdraw its troops, or some of them, to where they will be safe from snipers—both those who fire bullets and those who issue white papers.

But it is to be hoped that the peace-keeping force will accomplish much more than the least—that it will give the democratic process another chance in the Dominican Republic so that its people may eventually establish a stable, free and progressive government of their own choosing.

THAT OVERSEAS MARKET

Marketing overseas is profitable for individual companies. Taken as a whole, it is good for the United States. It is encouraging to hear these truths reiterated by a small businessman whose company does 40 per cent of its business across the ocean.

Carl Diddle of Emporia, Kan., suggests that there are great opportunities for small companies to expand their trade abroad—and, in the process, to cut down on the five-million-dollar flow of money out of this country each year. His remarks, made at a meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, were seconded by other small town industrialists. All encouraged getting acquainted with foreign distributors and

'These Days'

LET TITO HAVE SOMETHING TO CHEW ON

The International P.E.N. Club, a world organization of writers, is scheduled to meet this summer at Bled, Yugoslavia. But certain French and British writers, in protest against the jailing of the Yugoslav writer, Mihajlo Mihajlov, for his criticism of Stalin's prison camps, are threatening to boycott the meeting. One hopes that this spirit will spread. If nobody shows up in Bled, it will be wonderful.

Or better than that, the P.E.N. delegations should go to Yugoslavia and put the Mihajlov matter high on their agenda. Let's have a resounding international incident out of this! The Yugoslav dictator Tito clapped Mihajlov into prison for saying little more about the crimes of Stalin than Khrushchev himself had said. Moreover, Mihajlov's description of Stalin's camps, which appears in his "Summer in Moscow, 1964," relies heavily on what Russian novelists and memoir writers have themselves set down on paper about the grisly topic. The Russians quoted by Mihajlov were not censored in home publications such as "Novy Mir," and it quite amazed the young Yugoslav visitor to Moscow to discover that "Soviet magazines are beginning to look like the annals of the crimes of Philip II's Inquisition."

"What can I do?" so Mihajlov has asked. "I have more respect for the Russian people than for the Soviet authority. I abused no one's confidence. In my travel notes I did not write a word about my conversations with well-known Russian writers without first receiving their permission to do so."

Another matter for the P.E.N. agenda might be the tribulations of Valery Tarsis, whose incarceration in a Soviet "mental clinic" was mentioned in this column more than a year ago. After his release from the "clinic," Tarsis smuggled an autobiographical novel about his incarceration out of Russia, and it has been published in part in the Russian exile magazine "Grani" in Germany. It is not the first time that Tarsis has had his work published in the West.

The shocking thing about Tarsis's description of the "insane asylum" to which he was committed for five months is that there were no crazy people in it unless he is considered mad to object to totalitarianism. The inmates consisted of three main categories: young people who had unsuccessfully tried to commit suicide because they refused to accept their lot under Communism with "traditional Slavic resignation"; the so-called "Americans" who had been arrested for the "crime" of speaking frankly to Western tourists or to the personnel at Western embassies; and the "idlers" who had not tried to find any particular place in Soviet society. The people in charge of the "clinic" were not doctors; they were simply police officers.

What Tarsis complains about is that Stalin's concentration camp arrests were continued in Khrushchev's de-Stalinized Russia under the name of "psychopathological deportations." He writes: "They cannot buy me. Stupid asses: don't they understand that I have left them forever and now I am their enemy. Hospital room seven, where I used to live, is a high school of hate."

Still another matter for the P.E.N. agenda is the continued detention in a Yugoslav prison of Milovan Djilas, a first-rate writer who displeased Tito by saying that a "new class" society had grown up in Soviet Russia under Marxism with the bureaucrats replacing the capitalists of old in living high off the hog and oppressing the "underlying population."

Yugoslavia is supposed to be a "non-aligned" nation yet it presumes to jail writers who are critical of the Soviet Union while it permits criticism of America. A P.E.N. Club that is concerned with the problems of writers must raise the issues of free expression when it meets in Yugoslavia this summer or else give up all pretense to speak for the members of the author's profession.

If Tito doesn't approve of free talk about censorship and about government detention of candid authors, the world should know about it. And there are other nations that would be happy to play host to the P.E.N. delegations. (Copyright, 1965, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Forget Foolish Rumors And Happily Drink Milk

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My husband is 43. Recently he quit drinking coffee for milk. Friends told him that older people can drink too much milk and that it causes hardening of the arteries. Is this true?

A—Although it is now known that cholesterol and related components of the so-called saturated fats and not calcium are responsible for hardening of the arteries, baseless rumors about the harmfulness of milk persist. The average adult should get about one gram of calcium daily. Milk, cheese and the leafy vegetables are the chief sources of this calcium. Because calcium is poorly absorbed from the digestive tract, it is necessary to take more than the minimum requirement every day. Unless a person is allergic to milk, he should drink a pint a day and twice this amount would not harm him.

Q—Would it be safe for me to have eyebrows tattooed on? I'm tired of using an eyebrow pencil.

A—There is always risk of infection and of a severe allergic reaction after tattooing.

Q—My teen-age daughter has a large, noticeable blackhead inside her ear. Is there any way to get rid of it?

A—There is no satisfactory way to get rid of a large blackhead in a location where the skin is tight. Since the victim is a girl, why not cover her ears with her hair?

Q—When I have a difficult stool it is followed by bleeding. Is this in any way related to cancer?

A—The most likely cause of your trouble is piles, but a fissure or crack in the skin or mucous membrane at the outlet may be the cause. Cancer of the rectum is certainly a possibility. Your doctor can easily determine the cause.

Q—I am 60 and feel fine. Can a doctor discover a prostatic cancer even though I don't have any symptoms of prostate trouble?

A—If you have a cancer of the prostate that is just starting, it will cause no symptoms, but it can be felt by the doctor. Prompt removal of an early prostatic cancer followed by an appropriate X-ray and hormonal treatment gives the best chance for cure.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

believe a company does better business with friends. The point is an important one. Salesmen should try to understand overseas customers and exchange visits with them. "You must adapt yourself to their pace," Diddle said. "Only when you are in step can you talk." That, too, is sound advice.

It is possible for the nation's economy to benefit from this small town man's approach to business. He believes "a friend is a friend the world over." It's a nice idea—and it can be a profitable one, both for the individual businessman and for the national economy.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Johnson evidently is confident he acted wisely in throwing America's power into the Dominican crises. Yet he is said to be somewhat restless over the problem.

Some high level aides cautioned the President that, once we become enmeshed in the Dominican Republic's affairs, it might be extremely difficult to extricate ourselves. The question of "next steps" struck these aides as a very cloudy business. According to reports, it is this aspect of the matter that has unsettled Johnson a little. A comment from one source: "He doesn't like to be associated with anything that isn't going to turn out completely right."

THE NEW CRISES appears to have come along just as the President was beginning to take in better stride the buffeting from his other foreign dilemma—Viet Nam. Answering his critics, he and his helpers were capturing more attention for his side of the story. Having been chided for too much secrecy over Viet Nam, he went the other way in the Dominican affair. In one official's view, this represents an "over-responsiveness to criticism" which in some circumstances could adversely affect the President's policy making.

However this might be, there does not seem much point in dwelling endlessly on Johnson's sensitivity to attack. As one old friend puts it: "Let's face it. He's always been thin-skinned, and he's probably always going to be."

LATELY the President has not been content simply to answer charges against the specifics of his foreign policy. He has been defending himself against the contention that he doesn't care enough about foreign affairs or give them sufficient time except when crisis compels it.

Here he gets at least a partial assist from a few administration men whose detachment has to be accepted as genuine. The view they give is of a president who is willing enough to mix into the foreign field if there are pragmatic gains to be had—to defend the country's interest when that must be done, and advance them when it can be done.

AT THE SAME TIME, these semidetached viewers see no desire in Johnson to remake the world, to push out the frontiers of idealism, to go adventuring into the minds of many world leaders without specific intent. Says one source: "He doesn't really expect much in this field. He doesn't think any amount of talking will change De Gaulle, or even President Ayub Khan of Pakistan. That's one of the overlooked reasons Ayub's visit was postponed. The President just didn't think he could make a sale."

It is suggested that Johnson, in this regard, is almost the reverse of the late President Kennedy. The latter came to the White House thinking he could move world mountains. It was only after the disastrous Bay of Pigs, the grinding confrontation in Vienna with Khrushchev, and the Berlin wall, that Kennedy spoke feelingly of the "limitations" on American power and influence.

Even then, some argue, his idealistic notions did not die. He explored the minds of many leaders-to-be. He thought he would outlive the old leaders, and in a second term take the forefront in new efforts at recasting a troubled world.

Lyndon Johnson is not immune to foreign enthusiasms. He worked up a good deal of spirit over his "Mekong valley project" and general development proposals for Southeast Asia. But to one appraiser this is just a foreign transplant of his domestic enthusiasms. He adds: "The Mekong may simply be the Pedernales enlarged."

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

From time to time I am asked about the D. & H. Canal which built up Rondout. In days gone by I used to refer them to Mrs. Dorothy H. Sanderson, former director of the Ellenville Public Library, as she was making a collection on all the information and pictures of the canal. She has just come out with a handsome book on the Delaware and Hudson Canalway. The first printing consists of 1,000 copies and she sent me No. 152. I understand that copies can be had from Mrs. Sanderson of 15 Maple Avenue, Ellenville, or the Canal Society of New York State, 311 Montgomery Street, Syracuse. Just now someone from Scranton, Pa., addressed a letter to the Rondout Publishing Co., Rondout, N. Y., to find out the price and where to get the book. He is George P. Kaiser. It so happens, the book is published by the Rondout Valley Publishing Co., Inc., Ellenville, N. Y.

I tell all the above as I think readers who are interested in the D & H history will enjoy this book. Mrs. Sanderson gives a full page reproduction of an old illustration of the route of the Delaware and Hudson Canal, which from 1828 to 1898 played an important part in the development of the coal industry in the United States, carrying anthracite—mined near Honesdale, to tidewater at Rondout, part of the present day, City of Kingston. No doubt many of the fine brick, bluestone and Rondout Iron Works business buildings of Rondout were built during those years. It is said, that the best structures were built during those years in the Rondout part of the town, up and down lower Broadway. They can still be seen, and although time and vandalism, not stopped by

Decisions Facing Johnson Like Those Truman Handled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe lots of people don't like to read what happened in yesteryears, and even some members of Congress would prefer to forget what their own government did in crises quite similar to those that are happening today. But, by coincidence, former President Truman had his 81st birthday a few days ago, and this occasion a re-reading of Mr. Truman's two volumes of memoirs, certain pages of which outline American foreign policy in words that read as if they had been written in 1965 in relation to Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Mr. Truman was faced by a crisis in Greece and Turkey in 1946 and 1947. Both countries raised problems more than 3,000 miles away from our shores. The two nations were being challenged by Communist threats from within and without. Isolationists emerged at the time in America to urge that the United States keep hands off. Mr. Truman, however, said to Congress and to a nationwide radio audience in 1947: "I believe that it must be the policy of the United States to support free people who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures. I believe that we must assist free people to work out their own destinies in their own way."

On April 5, 1947, at a Jefferson Day dinner, Mr. Truman declared: "We must take a positive stand. It is no longer enough merely to say, 'We don't want war.' We must act in time—ahead of time—to stamp out the smoldering beginnings of any conflict that may threaten to spread over the world."

The Communists today have interfered in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic as well as Viet Nam. In both cases, the existing governments indicated plainly their need for American help. The United States was told by the Dominican government, for instance, that lives and property no longer could be protected. Obviously, the alternative was to mobilize an armed force from this country.

Mr. Truman had a similar experience when the Greek situation took a serious turn. He tells in his book what happened in 1947: "Sizeable guerrilla units had crossed the frontier from Albania. It appeared that they were aiming at the occupation of some larger communities that could serve as centers for a 'people's republic.'"

"I called the Secretary of the Navy and asked him how large a part of our Mediterranean fleet he might be able to move to Greek ports. Secretary Forrestal informed me that it would be entirely practical to have a large part of the Mediterranean squadron shifted on short order. He expressed a belief that such a visit would have some deterrent effect on the activities of the Communist guerrillas."

Mr. Truman didn't wait for the UN to act, but he got support from Congress, which passed a bill authorizing aid to Greece. He writes "With this enactment by Congress of aid to Greece and Turkey, America had served notice that the march of communism would not be allowed to succeed by default. The Communist rebels in Greece and the accomplices north of the border realized, of course, that the arrival of American aid would prove their undoing. They made every effort, therefore, to secure a victory before our aid might become effective. There was no doubt that the rebels were masterminded from the satellite countries."

Neither the Marshall Plan nor the NATO treaty required any participation by the UN. Both projects were regional arrangements, analogous to the Alliance for Progress, and the Organization of American States. The objectives now are the same. We were championed by the United States nearly 20 years ago. For what was known then as the Truman Doctrine has its counterpart today in the Johnson Doctrine, which, in turn, is a logical sequel to the Monroe Doctrine proclaimed in 1823. Thus, European powers coveting the territory of existing governments in Latin America were warned 142 years ago not to commit any acts of aggression in this hemisphere. This is still American foreign policy.

about our chances of winning the Vanderbilt one week before play began?"

Jim: "Whose chances? John Fisher and I had a firm engagement. You and Ira Rubin had some sort of semi-engagement and had been talking to Phil Feldesman about his finding a partner. We had no team."

Oswald: "Finally Phil came up with the idea of calling Albert (Dingy) Weiss in Miami. Dingy had no plans to go to the tournament at all and had never played with Phil except in rubber bridge games. On the other hand Phil and Dingy are two of the very best rubber bridge players in the world and their simple system knocked all comers out of the box in the Vanderbilt."

Jim: "Here is a hand that shows their bidding at its best. Dingy raised Phil right away in hearts and when Phil tried for game Dingy put him there. Somewhat like old fashioned 'Papa-Mamma' bidding, but most effective."

Oswald: "Most effective is the way to describe it. After West opened the king of clubs, Phil was able to ruff out his third club in dummy and conceded one diamond trick after drawing trumps. Of course, the hand might not have made if suits had broken badly but the idea in International Match Point competition is to bid all close games."

Jim: "I know we picked up 11 IMPs on the hand. Against us North rebid to one spade and, after South continued to one no-trump, North passed. We collected five clubs and the ace of diamonds so he did make his one no-trump for whatever consolation that might have given him."

This building was formerly Plattekill District 11 School, a large two room structure that was used as a schoolhouse for a great many years before consolidation with Highland. After this move the school property was presented to the fire district who have converted it into a civic center to be used for community events. Another smaller building on the property was torn down to create a playground.

The Roman emperor Nero's real name was Nero Claudius Caesar Augustus Germanicus. There is no proof of his guilt in the burning of Rome in the year 64. In fact, by Nero's orders the open spaces in the Campus Martius were utilized to give shelter to homeless crowds, provisions were brought from the provinces and the price of corn was lowered. He also ordered new houses built partly of stone rather than wood.

Seize 65 Who Protest Plant In Selma, Ala.

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—About 65 young people arrested as participants in a civil rights demonstration at the Hammill Paper Co.'s Erie plant were free today on their own recognizance.

They were arrested Tuesday and charged with obstructing an officer. The arrests followed Hammill's petition for an injunction to halt the demonstration. It was granted by Erie County Court.

Two of those arrested are Canadians, Simon John Garber and James Edwin Mayor, both of Toronto. A hearing has been scheduled for May 20. All of the arrested were freed at the company's request.

The demonstrators were protesting Hammill's plans to construct a pulp mill near Selma, Ala., the scene of recent civil rights strife.

The demonstration coincided with Hammill's annual stockholders' meeting in the plant's main administration building.

While about 80 to 120 demonstrators, mostly white college students, paraded, sang and changed outside the meeting, Hammill President John H. Devitt told the stockholders inside the building:

"We realize the bad timing of announcing that we are going ahead with our plans. However, we feel this is the only course open to us."

He said the announcement of the company's plans drew threats of a boycott but added: "We have not been economically harmed as far as I can notice."

Devitt said the company had been working with the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity and the Labor Department in an attempt to work out the problems of employment and training.

"In addition to these governmental agencies," he said, "Hammill has been in frequent contact with responsible Negro leaders for assistance in locating applicants for training."

"We feel that with the help of this group we can continue to meet our stated position of becoming an equal opportunity employer within the spirit as well as the letter of the law."

Me a n while, demonstrators also picketed Hammill plants in Lock Haven, Pa., and Hamilton, Ohio.

All of the demonstrations were peaceful.

Hearings Could Set Stage for Probe of Klan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Closed investigative hearings into the Ku Klux Klan may begin in two weeks to set the stage for the House Committee on Un-American Activities' formal probe of the Klan, a source said today.

The source said Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., has named a subcommittee to conduct the hearings, but the source declined to identify the members.

The subcommittee was appointed now, he said, to be prepared to hear in closed sessions testimony "of prospective witnesses to determine whether the testimony would have any bearing on the investigation."

The source stressed, however, that these investigative hearings should not be confused with the formal open sessions which he said probably would begin within two months.

Some Klan leaders may be subpoenaed at the closed hearings.

The committee voted late in March to launch an investigation of the Klan.

Accidental Spill Burns Student With Nitric Acid

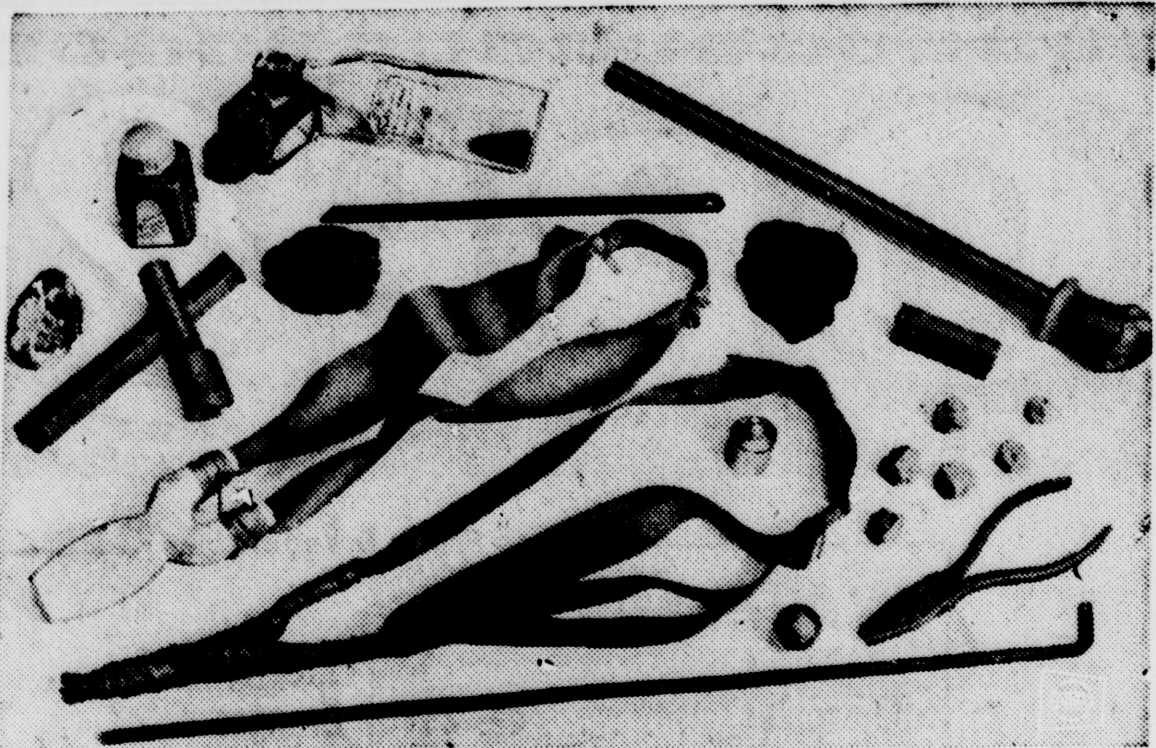

A 17-year-old Kingston High School sophomore was severely burned with nitric acid Tuesday afternoon when he accidentally spilled it on his body, according to William A. Scafidi, vice principal.

Scafidi said another student, whose name was not disclosed, had been suspended and school officials planned to discuss the incident with his parents later.

The vice principal said Wayne Van Kleeck of Route 2, Box 215, Kingston was taken to Kingston Hospital suffering severe burns of the body. Scafidi said investigation showed that Van Kleeck had asked the other student to take a bottle of acid from the chemistry lab. The youth did and gave it to Van Kleeck who put it in his locker until yesterday afternoon when he took the acid towards his home. On the way the acid spilled, Scafidi said.

At first it was believed that the other student had thrown the acid at Van Kleeck but Scafidi said there was no throwing of acid and both boys questioned said the acid accidentally spilled on Van Kleeck.

Thruway Pledges Full Study of Bus Restrictions

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County met Tuesday with representatives of the New York State Thruway and the major bus lines in this area in an attempt to solve a problem concerning a recent restriction placed on trucks and buses by the Thruway Authority.

Recently union and management representatives from the local Adirondack Trailways Bus Line met with Assemblyman Wilson and explained that a recent ruling by the New York State Thruway Authority which excluded all trucks and buses from using the left-hand lane on all three lane sections of the State's superhighway was posing a serious safety hazard upon the bus companies and the bus drivers. Assemblyman Wilson immediately arranged a meeting between the Thruway Authority and the bus companies in an effort to arrive at some means of solving the problem.

Attending Tuesday's meeting in Albany were representatives of the Adirondack Trailways Bus Line, the Pine Hill-Kingston Thruway, the Short Line System and Mountain View Coach Lines. The representative from the Greyhound could not be present at the meeting, but sent word that his line agreed fully with the other local bus companies. Also attending the meeting were representatives of two local unions which represent bus drivers in this area, Local 682 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Local 225 of the Transport Workers Union. Representing the New York State Thruway Authority was John Fague, the administrative assistant to the chairman of the Thruway and Phillip Lee, the director of Safety for the Thruway.

Following the meeting the Thruway representatives informed Assemblyman Wilson that they had not been fully aware of the problem which might be caused by the new ruling and promised that they would make a full and intensive study of the entire question. The Thruway Safety Director had said during the meeting that the new measure had been instituted for reasons of safety based on the experience of other superhighways in neighboring states.

Committee for Age 18

Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia told the Associated Press, however, that he still intended to press for a vote on a bill that would raise the age to 21.

Escapade Seized After Crash of Stolen Vehicle
A 20-year-old Hudson River State Hospital escapee was apprehended Tuesday afternoon, after a stolen car he was driving smashed into three other vehicles on Route 9, Town of Hyde Park.

State Police Sergeant Walter Elstroth of Rhinebeck, said Michael Hanlon, of Troy, was being sought by authorities after troopers were notified the youth had bolted from the state institution on North Road, Poughkeepsie, when word was received of the vehicle collision.

Hanlon was returned to the state hospital.

Sergeant Elstroth reported Hanlon was driving a car owned by Alfred Breitmair of Highland, which had been reported stolen in Poughkeepsie. Hanlon was traveling north on Route 9 when the car struck the left rear of a vehicle owned by Joseph Balis, 37, of Staatsburg. Hanlon continued on and hit a vehicle driven by Bruce Fritz, 29, of New Paltz, and then hit a car owned by George Hall, 38, of Red Hook.

Balis was treated at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for contusions of the left arm. Hall suffered contusions of the left shoulder and a possible cerebral concussion. He also was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Heart Institute: Knowledge Gained From Stroke Aid Will Help Others

"The large number of persons who have been helped to recovery of language following a stroke has created a fund of knowledge that is now being used to help others," said Mrs. Martha Taylor, the guest speaker at the second session of the Heart Institute for Nurses Monday night at the Brigham School.

Mrs. Taylor, who lectured on Fundamental Considerations—Normal and Abnormal Verbal Behavior, is director of Speech and Hearing Therapy at the Institute of Physical Rehabilitation, New York University Medical Center, New York City.

The verbal impairment as a result of stroke was described by Mrs. Taylor as being divided into four main categories:

Aphasia which is impairment of vocabulary or sentence structure.

Semantics — impairment in the understanding of the meaning of words.

Verbal aphasia is impairment in producing correct sounds due to brain damage.

Dysarthria — impairment in producing correct sounds because of speech muscle disability.

The complex nature of these impairments requires a comprehensive examination of all the functions comprising normal oral behavior in the speech process.

Mrs. Taylor emphasized that the nurse's role is significant, particularly during early management, in describing the natural-speech recovery process and setting the stage for future treatment.

At the third and last session of the Institute next Monday, May 17, the role of the nurse in the language rehabilitation of the stroke patient will be dealt with more specifically. Anyone wishing to attend this session who has not attended the first two, may do so.

The Institute is being sponsored by the Ulster and Greene Counties Heart Chapters with the cooperation of the New York State Nurses Association, District 11.

Ohio Republican Leads Fight to Kill Voting Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican led the charge today as the Johnson administration fought to have the House Judiciary Committee strike an outright ban on state and local poll taxes from the voting-rights bill.

Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, senior Judiciary Republican, was fronting for the Democratic administration for a good reason: the Democratic chairman wouldn't.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York is siding with other liberals — and fighting the White House — on this issue.

President Johnson needed plenty of Republican help Tuesday to keep liberals from attaching a poll-tax ban to the bill in the Senate. He got it on a 49-45 vote, largely because GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen supported him as he has consistently on civil rights legislation.

Twenty-five Republicans joined 24 Democrats to defeat the ban, proposed as an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. The late President John F. Kennedy's brother was backed by 38 other Democrats and 6 Republicans, including the assistant GOP leader, Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California.

Celler predicts the poll-tax amendment will be kept in the bill by the committee. As chairman he has considerable influence.

But even if he succeeds in bucking the White House, the administration could make a fight of it again farther down the legislative road — in a House-Senate conference, for instance.

The 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution has banned the poll tax in federal elections. Virginia, Texas, Alabama and Mississippi are the only states that still require poll-tax payments for voting in state and local elections.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach contends a flat legislative ban on the poll tax would be of doubtful constitutionality. Instead, the administration is backing a provision that would

Krum Denies He's Drawing Out of Race for Sheriff
A candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff today denied that he had withdrawn from the race, and pledged a strenuous pre-convention campaign to get his party's endorsement.

William A. Krum of 39 Mary's Avenue, a former Kingston detective, said he was issuing the statement in the face of persistent rumors to the contrary that he intended to withdraw.

"I have no intention of withdrawing, and plan to go all the way — even to the convention floor, if necessary — in my bid to secure the nomination for sheriff," Krum said.

"I feel that my background in police work qualifies me to seek the nomination and that the time has come for the Republican party to consider a candidate with a wide experience in law enforcement work for the sheriff's post," Krum added.

Krum, now employed by the New York State Thruway Authority, served as a member of the Kingston Police Department for 11 years, both as a patrolman and detective. He resigned to join the Federal Bureau of Investigation where he served two years as a special agent.

He was born in the Wilbur section of this city and attended Kingston schools and the Moran Business School. Krum served with the U. S. Army in World War 2, is a 20-year member of the American Legion. He also is a past exalted ruler of the Kingston Lodge 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the Phoenicia Rod and Gun Club, and the United Commercial Travelers.

Harriman Blames Split by Reds for Dominican Rift

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today blamed the situation in the Dominican Republic on a Soviet-Chinese ideological split where both sides "are attempting to prove its methods promise the fastest and surest road to communism."

Harriman told a student convocation here:

"Moscow seemingly wants to outdo in Latin America what Peking is trying to achieve in the Far East."

"The most recent example is in the Dominican Republic where Cuban-trained Communist activists infiltrated and exploited a democratically motivated rebellion."

Harriman, speaking on the Chinese-Soviet split, said the competition between the two countries "is increasing the dangers to the free world."

Dear Abby . . . Time Will Tell!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a woman-chaser all the 44 years I have been married to him. We are now both in our early 70's. I never divorced him because we had four lovely children and, besides, I can honestly say he never mistreated me. He always provided well for the children and me, and our only arguments were over his weakness for women. When he was 69 years old he got a young girl in trouble. There was a lot of expense connected with that but no publicity, thank heavens. My lawyer says I could get a divorce and a very substantial settlement, but do you think it's advisable to break up after all these years? We have nine grandchildren who think "Gump" is tops.

"GUMPA'S" MATE
DEAR ABBY: "Gump" appears to be YOUR weakness. My guess is you'd be lost without him, so stick with him. If Father Time doesn't take care of his "weakness"—Mother Nature will.

DEAR ABBY: As a man who has to contend with the telephone in his office I anticipate re-creating to my nice quiet home at the end of the day. But, alas, this seems to be the prime time for the ladies to call each other to arrange their bridge parties, church socials, car pools, etc. What do these women do all day that they can't get these things arranged beforehand?

SICK OF PHONES
DEAR ABBY: They're attending bridge parties, church socials and they're driving the kids around.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy with a big problem—my parents. They are the most wonderful parents a boy could want, but between the two of them they smoke three cartons of cigarettes a week. My mother is very nervous and the doctor told her to cut down. She promised she would, but she hasn't. My father smokes unconsciously. He'll set a cigarette down in an ash tray, let it burn and light another one. Both Dad and Mom cough all the time. What can a 17-year-old boy do to get his parents to quit smoking? I know nobody can live forever, but why can't people take better care of their health?

CONCERNED SON
DEAR CONCERNED: Obviously your parents are not strong enough to set a good example for you. So YOU set one for them, and hat's off to you!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee and I've never had any trouble getting dates. My problem is that every man I date thinks that just because I've been married anything goes. It is very discouraging to have to fight off men all the time. The first thing they suggest is going up to their apartments, or to a motel or something like that. I love to dance and I enjoy good clean fun. What happened to all the decent men?

SUZANNE
DEAR SUZANNE: They're still around you seem to be attracting the wrong kind. Change bait.

Lost Husband in Cong Mine Blast

Widow of Adviser Helping Mekong Delta Area Children

By CHARLES WEST
SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP) — A pretty, young Army widow who aided a Vietnamese village with medicines and infant food in memory of her husband now proposes to help children there with school supplies.

From her farmhouse outside this village of 5,500, Barbara Spruill discussed her interest in the Mekong River delta village of Cai Son, 10,000 miles away.

"Jim had talked often about the school and the children," said Mrs. Spruill, 32. "He was teaching a small English class." Her husband, Capt. James P. Spruill of Plymouth, N.C., lived in Cai Son for five months as military adviser until his Jeep touched off a Communist land mine a year ago. The blast killed him, a U.S. Army sergeant and three Vietnamese soldiers.

Wipes Out Medical Supply

In the captain's letters, and later in his diary, Mrs. Spruill read of another Viet Cong mine explosion that had gravely injured four children. The diary noted that this emergency had wiped out the village's medical supplies.

"Jim was trying hard to do something there," Mrs. Spruill said.

She wrote to several U.S. pharmaceutical companies, asking for medicines, infant formulas and powdered milk. They responded with the gifts and paid for shipping them.

"The Vietnamese made a big ceremony of accepting them,"

Mrs. Spruill said, opening a scrapbook to copies of speeches by local dignitaries. The main speaker had been Lt. Col. Nguyen Khac Tuan, chief of the Vinh Long Province.

"I don't think I'm going to contact any school supply firms," she said. "I probably will just send the money and maybe they can purchase Vietnamese supplies and that way it wouldn't be another isolated American gift."

The Army compiled excerpts from his Viet Nam letters in a 12-page booklet, "The Line Is Drawn."

Keep Memory Alive

This and other mementos adorn the farmhouse apartment: a Purple Heart and other medals, framed behind glass. A portrait of the West Point cadet,

A snapshot of the captain in Viet Nam, a sub-machine gun casually held in one hand. A fat scrapbook.

They keep alive the memory for Barbara Spruill and her two children, Mark, 8, and Elisabeth, 5.

On the wall hangs a work of Vietnamese art, lacquered wood, sent to her by the colonel on behalf of his people.

The villagers also erected a stone monument on the spot where the jeep was blasted. It bears the names of the victims, the date and the words, "Well done. Be thou at peace."

The Amazon River has a flow of 7,500,000,000 cubic feet per second, or 12 times the rate of the Mississippi.

Testers Dunked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Testers of a flying boat designed to zip commuters across San Francisco Bay were dunked Tuesday when the craft capsized.

The four passengers in the Hovercraft, which rides on a jet-air cushion some four feet above the waves, were rescued by a military patrol boat. The Hovercraft was towed to shore. "We went into a right turn at about 60 miles per hour, and the contrifugal force gently rolled us over," said John Cunningham, vice president of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines.

"We won't be doing maneuvers like that on any commercial trips," said Cunningham. "In the tests we're finding out the limits."

The doctrine of Dadaism is the suppression of all relation between thought and expression in art and literature.

The annual parade and ceremonies in New Windsor are being planned again by the Joint Memorial Day committee comprising members of the New Windsor American Legion, Quasakick Fire Engine Co. and the Vails Gate Fire Company. John Taylor of the Legion Post is chairman.

Sillin Discusses Regional Plans At Albany Meet

Lelan F. Sillin Jr., president of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, participated in a panel discussion on "The Role of Planning in Decision Making" at the third annual institute of the American Society for Public Administration in Albany Tuesday.

Sillin was invited to describe the regional planning effort being launched in the Mid-Hudson Valley and to give his views on how greater harmony in planning can be brought about between the public and private sectors.

In making his presentation, Sillin pointed out that he was speaking not as a professional planner but as an individual whose knowledge of planning is based on his experience as a businessman and as a citizen who has been privileged to work with people who are experts in planning, public administration and education.

The utility executive co-sponsored the Pattern for Progress Conference on regional planning at the State University College at New Paltz in December. Subsequently, Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress, Inc. was formed as the official organizational responsible for a balanced program of planning and development in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

Bitter Debate Looms

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The stage is set for another, possibly bitter round of legislative debate on Pennsylvania's Unemployment Compensation program.

The Pennsylvania AFL-CIO and the United Mine Workers hastened Tuesday to support a bill introduced in the House by Democrats to restore most of the benefit cuts made in the program by the administration of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton last year.

The two unions were principals in the earlier fight which lasted several months and ended in a stormy session on the House floor as Democrats charged violation of their constitutional rights.

Nurse Elizabeth Ossman feeds treatment data into one of 36 transmitting devices located at key points throughout the hospital. A central computer notes the information. A detailed bill is ready in seconds upon a patient's discharge.

Airfield Builder In Viet Nam Is Now at Pensacola

A native Kingstonian responsible for the construction of airfields at Bien Hoa, Pleiku, Can Tho and Da Nang, Viet Nam, is now serving at Pensacola, Fla., where many of the pilots who will be using these landing strips are trained.

He is Capt. George S. Robinson, public works officer of the U. S. Naval Air Training Command at Pensacola, the Navy's largest shore establishment. Capt. Robinson was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark Reed, who were residents of 23 John Street, Saugerties.

Was Bridge Engineer

Prior to entering the service, Capt. Robinson was a bridge engineer with Ulster County Highway Department.

He served for three years as officer in charge of construction for all U. S. Military Assistance Programs in Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam before reporting to the "Home of Naval Aviation" in June 1964.

While serving in Southeast Asia, he headed such Army, Navy and Air Force construction projects as the airport at Vientiane, Laos, and new airfields at Bien Hoa, Pleiku and Can Tho, Viet Nam.

Captain Robinson directed the reconstruction and rehabilitation of the Da Nang airfield from which many of the long-range air strikes against the Viet Cong are launched.

He was also responsible for the building of aircraft warning stations in Vietnam and Thailand, numerous Army barracks, ammunition depots, schools, hospitals, piers, oil pipelines, fuel storage tanks and the huge Southeast Asia Toll Communications network.

Upon leaving Southeast Asia for duty in Florida, Captain Robinson was awarded the Army Commendation Medal for exercising "a high degree of professional skill in directing this tremendous construction effort. The work, vital to the effectiveness

CAPT. GEORGE S. ROBINSON of the United States program in Southeast Asia, was complicated by its magnitude, stringent deadlines, and, at times military action.

He has also been awarded the Joint Service Commendation Medal by the Secretary of Defense and the Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific "for materially aiding the war effort in Viet Nam."

Thailand's Prime Minister and Minister of Defense, Thanom Kittikachorn, in a letter to the U. S. Ambassador in Bangkok, lauded Captain Robinson's construction efforts. He said, "The departure of Captain and Mrs. Robinson will be a loss to the Thai community."

The Prime Minister added that Captain Robinson promoted such charities as the Foundation for the Welfare of Crippled Children, while his wife, as president of the American Women's Club devoted many hours to charity and community efforts. "Together Captain and Mrs.

Robinson have set a standard of warm personal relations with the people of Thailand, which is a credit to the American community," the minister concluded.

In August, 1955, the French Government named Captain Robinson a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of the Republic of France and presented him the Cross of the Order in recognition of his services as chief of operations for the Joint Construction Agency in Paris. During his two-year tour, he was responsible for more than $400 million of construction of airfields and military installations in France, Italy, Greece and Turkey.

The president of Haiti in 1944 decorated him as Commander of the Order of Honor and Merit in recognition of construction projects he directed in the Republic of Haiti.

Captain Robinson, a native of Kingston, is currently serving his second tour of duty in the Pensacola area. He served there from March, 1949, to September, 1951, as the public works officer on the staff of the chief of Naval Air Basic Training. In that capacity he was in charge of the design of the multimillion-dollar Forrest Sherman Field and the Pensacola Naval Air Station's new steam turbine power plant.

A veteran of 28 years service with the Navy, the captain is married to the former Margaret C. Searle, also of Kingston. The Robinsons, who live in Quarters 43 aboard the Pensacola Naval Air Station, have a 26-year old son, George Jr. A lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy's Civil Engineer Corps, as the Navy's first Marshall Scholar, he recently was awarded a Doctorate of Engineering at the Imperial College of Science and Technology, University of London.

The captain, a 1932 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute is a member of Tau Beta Pi, National Engineering Honor

Boy Hurt in Fall

Louis Sanchez, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sanchez, of 79 Center Street, Ellenville, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Veterans Memorial Hospital. The boy fell from a second story window at his home at about 1:15 p. m. Tuesday, according to Police Chief Abe Rand. The boy was taken to the hospital by the Ellenville Rescue Squad. The extent of his injuries was not listed, according to a report of Patrolman Leonard Quick.

Three Counties Of Valley in New Court Dist.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two additional court districts — the Poughkeepsie and Watertown Districts — have been created by the State Court of Claims in the first such change in more than 20 years.

Increasing the number of districts to nine will "facilitate the prompt and fair disposal of claims against the state," said presiding Judge John P. Gualtieri Tuesday.

The new Poughkeepsie District will comprise Dutchess, Orange and Putnam Counties, previously part of the Albany District, and Rockland and Westchester Counties, formerly part of the New York City district.

Upstate, the Watertown District will include the Counties of Jefferson, from the Syracuse District, Lewis and St. Lawrence, from the Utica District, and Franklin, Clinton and Essex, until now part of the Albany District.

Other boundary changes will move Fulton, Hamilton and Montgomery Counties from the Albany District to the Utica District and Madison County from the Syracuse District to the Albany District.

Two All-Negro Schools to Close In Syracuse City

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Two predominately Negro schools will be closed this September, and their 950 pupils will travel to 18 other schools by bus, under action taken by the Syracuse Board of Education.

The controversial move, aimed at ending racial imbalance in the city school system, was approved Tuesday in a 6-1 vote.

Dr. Franklyn S. Barry, school superintendent, recommended the closing of Madison Junior High School and Washington Irving Elementary School. Enrollment at each school is about 85 per cent Negro.

Under the plan, the 500 pupils at Madison will be sent to six other junior high schools and 450 at Washington Irving will travel to 12 elementary schools.

He was held for action by the Sullivan County grand jury.

Senator's Role Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York County grand jury is investigating whether State Sen. Owen M. Begley, Schenectady Democrat, conspired to violate state laws against conflict of interest.

The investigation also involves Harold A. Blauvelt, owner of the Blauvelt Engineering Co., Manhattan, an engineering consulting company that has handled state highway contracts.

An affidavit filed in court by the district attorney's office spoke of Begley as "a potential defendant."

Ave Heckled During Talk At Ithaca

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, in a talk interrupted by hecklers and followed by a sit-in, Tuesday night said that Russia is working in Latin America to outdo Red China's efforts in the Far East.

The U.S. ambassador-at-large heard repeated shouts of "liar" as he discussed American policies and goals in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic in a 90-minute speech at Cornell University.

In the speech, Harriman said the rift between the Communist powers had increased the danger to the free world of subversion and aggression as Moscow and Peking "struggle for leadership of the international Communist movement."

His talk was marred by hisses, giggles, boos and shouts from about 200 of the more than 1,500 persons in the audience.

One critic was Jose Postigo-Villanova, a graduate business student at Cornell and son of Santo Domingo, Postigo-Villanova, during a question-answer period, accused the United States of keeping a "popular Democratic government from being established."

At one point in his talk, the obviously irritated Harriman asked students near the podium, "How many of you are Communists?" In reply, at least a half-dozen hands were raised.

In his address, the former New York governor said the Organization of American States (OAS) must be strengthened "to deal with internal subversion that amounts to an armed attack as well as the more traditional type of armed attacks across international boundaries."

Chairman Klein Will Address Democratic Club

Ulster County Democratic Chairman Aaron E. Klein will address the monthly meeting of the Woodstock Democratic Club on Thursday, May 20, at 8 p. m. at Deane's.

Klein, a member of the Kingston law firm of Schick and Klein, will review the accomplishments of his administration for 1965 on the town, county and state levels. A question and answer period will follow his address.

The county chairman has also indicated he may make an announcement of major significance at this time.

A former city judge in Kingston, Chairman Klein has been county Democratic chairman since September, 1963, when he defeated Attorney William A. Kelly for the post in a hotly contested election.

Klein was elected Kingston City Democratic chairman in 1962. In 1957 he won over Republican Raymond J. Mino, present county judge, for the post of City Judge, but was defeated by Republican Joseph Saccoman in a bid for re-election in 1961.

A prominent member of the Jewish Community in Kingston, Klein is a past president of the Kingston Jewish Community Council and a director of the Jewish Community Center. He is a member of Congregation Agudas Achim and Ahavath Israel; Rondout Lodge 543, F&AM; Kingston Lodge of Elks, Bnai B'rith, United Commercial Travelers and the Ulster County Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association.

Slate Meeting For 7th Graders

An orientation meeting for parents of students presently in the 6th grade in Woodstock and West Hurley and who will attend 7th grade next year in Woodstock, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Woodstock school.

Parents concerned have received a letter of invitation. Appearing on the program will be William Yeaple, Director of Guidance for Ontario Central schools; Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen, and Mrs. Ronald Koster, 7th grade guidance counselor.

Plans and programs for next year as well as the guidance services to be available will be discussed. A large group of teachers who will work with the 7th grade students next year will be on hand to answer specific questions which may arise.

Parents are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to meet those who will teach their children and to learn what is planned for the coming year.

Performing Arts Seeks Quarters

Performing Arts of Woodstock wants a home. The organization, a relatively new one in Woodstock, was conceived in the late fall of 1963. Since then it has sponsored various events but has had to schedule its activities around those of other groups in order to have a place to meet.

On May 29, P.A.W. will present "The Coming of Spring," a gala ball at the Woodstock Estates. The evening will include a discotheque, entertainment and a buffet. All proceeds will go toward a building fund to provide P.A.W. with a permanent home.

In the past year and a half, Performing Arts has presented a dramatized reading of "The Lesson" by Ionesco; performances of Daniel Klein's "The Audience," Edna St. Vincent Millay's "Aria da Capo," Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey," and Edward Albee's "The American Dream." It has also sponsored a lecture-recital, conducted acting classes for children and adults, and held bi-monthly play readings, with special emphasis on original plays by local playwrights. At present the group is rehearsing Jean Anouilh's "Antigone" for production in early June.

Plans for the future call for more emphasis on the dance and music as well as continued dramatic endeavors. With a central location to encompass all of these activities, the group could operate much more efficiently. For this reason, a fund drive has been started, in hopes that before too long P.A.W. may either purchase an existing building in the area or build one to suit its needs.

Tickets for the ball may be obtained by calling Mrs. James Williams, 44 Overlook Drive, Woodstock.

Schimmerling's Opus Slated for New York Radio

Radio Station WNYC, the Municipal Broadcasting System, will present a program of composition by H. A. Schimmerling on Saturday, May 22, from 6 to 6:45 p. m.

The title of the program, part of a series entitled Hands Across the Sea, will be Accents on Southeast Europe. The composer himself will perform his Suite for Piano, opus 101.

The name of the suite is Balkan Excursions with the following subtitles of the individual movements: (1) Their Cathedral; Tregrir is a medieval town on the Dalmatian coast of Yugoslavia; (2) Trebinje Kolo, a round dance from this city in the Hercegovina; (3) Midnight at Pontekonisi, the small island near Corfu; (4) Panayurishte Khoro, a folk dance from the western part of Bulgaria; (5) Black Sea Nocturne, evening impressions of the Danube delta near the Rumanian city of Sulina; (6) Finale, based upon a folk melody from Kishinev, the capital of the Moldavian Republic (USSR).

In addition, six Yugoslavian songs (excerpts from opus 83) will be sung in the vernacular by June Pauker, soprano from Kingston, with the composer at the piano. At the end of the program excerpts from the String Trio opus 89 will be played which was pre-recorded by the International Society for Contemporary Music. This trio contains "rhythmic impressions conceived between Beograd and Istanbul."

Meyer Talks on Conservatism at Republican Club

Frank S. Meyer, nationally known author, editor, and lecturer, addressed the Woodstock Republican Club Monday on "Conservatism in America and New York State."

Meyer, a member of the New York State Conservative Party Executive Committee and Treasurer of the newly formed American Conservative Union, traced the history of conservatism in America from shortly after the 1932 election of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the 1964 presidential election. He stated that conservatism and conservatives of both major parties existed in isolated places during the thirties and forties and it was only in the mid-fifties and early sixties that these various blocs became to form associations and enter the political arena directly.

Conservatism made an auspicious beginning in the 1964 presidential election in gaining 25 million votes when it must be remembered that the conservative point of view was poorly presented and the liberal dominated news media grossly distorted facts on the major campaign issues. Also major Republican leaders, with the notable exception of Richard M. Nixon, defected from the national ticket and in some instances openly worked against their party's nominee for President, Meyer said, and added that such issues as communism in Cuba and Viet Nam were not properly crystallized so that their impact on this country could be adequately demonstrated to the people.

Praises Johnson

Meyer also added that President Johnson is to be commended for following Barry Goldwater's get-tough Viet Nam policy as long as he continues to do so and does not capitulate to the liberal wing of the Democratic Party which seeks appeasement, compromise, and negotiation with communism.

Club President Clark Bell, hoping to correct erroneous impressions appearing in the press, emphasized that the Woodstock Republican Club in its speakers programs is conducting an open forum where all political concepts are welcome for debate and discussion and that the beliefs or positions of recent speakers, such as Alexander Aldrich, Executive Assistant to Governor Rockefeller, Lloyd A. Newcombe, Republican candidate for senator in the newly created 43rd senatorial district, and Frank S. Meyer, are not necessarily those of the Woodstock Republican Club as an organization.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Monday, June 21 at Deane's Restaurant at 8 p. m. at which time a program on the analysis of the legal composition of an election district will be presented.

Subject of the Bible Lesson is "Mortals and Immortals." Golden Text: "Thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4:7). The concluding Bible verse is from I Corinthians: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

Related passages from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "The real man being linked by Science to his Maker, mortals need only turn from sin and lose sight of mortal selfhood to find Christ, the real man and his relation to God, and to recognize the divine sonship" (Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 316).

The Monrovia, Wis., scientist apparently lost his way after leaving a small radio substation for the main Byrd station a mile away.

An eight-man search party, working in two vehicles, went over a 55-square-mile area around the two sties without locating Disch. The group said it would resume the search when weather and visibility improve.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has approved legislation to sharply cut tourists' privileges of bringing in duty-free goods—especially liquor.

The committee included in the bill Tuesday President Johnson's proposal to reduce the amount of goods tourists can bring in from $100 wholesale value per person to $50 retail value.

The liquor restriction would limit to one quart the duty-free

Union Head Retiring

DENVER (AP)—O. A. Knight is ending a 25-year-career as president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

Knight announced Tuesday he would retire at the end of the union's convention Aug. 16-21 at Miami Beach—a month short of his 63rd birthday.

During World War II he served in the Navy from 1944 to 1946. He was on duty on the destroyer Gerardi, Atlantic convoy duty, at the radio communications center in Palermo, Sicily servicing the Mediterranean theatre of war.

After the war he attended radio school in New York City, passed the Federal Communications Commission examinations to earn a first class license and was appointed radio communications officer for the Kingston Police Department in 1947.

Chief Hoffay is married to the former Marg. ret. Bechtold of Connelly. He has two daughters, Mother Mary Loretta, a nun at St. Joseph's School here and Margaret Ann Branigan of Richfield Springs, and four grandchildren.

Before appointment to the Kingston Police Department Patrolman Every worked as a line-man for the New York Telephone Company (1924-26), was with Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation for three years after that, then went to Chicago to work with Common Wealth Edison Company from 1929 to 1931.

He was transferred to the underground inspection division with the company until 1933.

Every was a lifeguard and instructor for the City of Chicago until 1934. Returning to Kingston in 1935, he worked as line-man for a private contractor and then as a stationary engineer at the old Barmann brewery.

Mrs. Every is the former Delores Gilbert of Hurley. His children are Gerald Jr., Bruce and Geri Lou Every of this city, and Mrs. Johnny (Judy) Dyars, Clemenson, S. C. He has two grandchildren.

Both of the 25-year men have hobbies. Deputy Chief Hoffay has a bookful of recipes he cooks up when he feels like donning the chef's apron, and as a carpenter he has built himself a summer camp.

Every, who hunts, fishes and skin-dives, has a riding ranch at May Park, Town of Esopus, and teaches youngsters horsemanship.

Chairman of tomorrow night's testimonial dinner is Sgt. Julius Glassman of the Kingston department, who has outlined an interesting program for the event.

Hoffay, Every Police Dinner
Is Thursday at Sky Top, R28

Thursday is the night for the 25th anniversary dinner arranged for two members of the Kingston Police Department—Deputy Chief Grover S. Hoffay and Patrolman Gerald Every.

It is to be attended by brother officers and friends under the auspices of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at Sky Top Restaurant on Route 28, starting at 7 p. m.

Both officers became regular members of the department in May of 1940.

Deputy Chief Hoffay came to Kingston in 1927 from New York City. He was born in the Hell's Kitchen sector on July 3, 1911.

Patrolman Every, a native of Travers Hollow, born 1907, came to Kingston in 1920.

Deputy Chief Hoffay was employed for six years by Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, and owned and operated a milk business for about a year. He became a special police officer in 1939 and a regular in 1940.

He rose from the ranks and was sergeant and lieutenant before becoming deputy chief in August of 1959.

During World War II he served in the Navy from 1944 to 1946. He was on duty on the destroyer Gerardi, Atlantic convoy duty, at the radio communications center in Palermo, Sicily servicing the Mediterranean theatre of war.

Flowers and Ice

Elements Are Mixed
At Niagara FallsBy CLIFF SPIELER
Niagara Falls Gazette

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Temperatures in the 80's. Tourists in shorts. And one of the latest ice gluts in the history of Niagara Falls.

These are the mixed elements as summer comes early on shore and winter dies hard in the river.

Ice Still Flowing

Flowers bloom in the parks in Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont., while a few yards away cakes of ice continue to plunge over the 182-foot-high American falls and the 176-foot-high Horseshoe Falls.

The ice still is flowing downstream from Lake Erie, which feeds the Niagara River. Officials believe the current "ice bridge" below the two falls has at least another week of life.

Meanwhile, those responsible for readying summer attractions for the millions who visit Niagara Falls each year are waiting for the last of the ice to move out toward Lake Ontario.

"There's nothing to do but wait," said Frank LeBlond, president of the firm that operates two 100-passenger diesel boats from docks on the shores below the cataracts.

"We were hoping to have them in the water by May 22 and we've still got a chance if the ice cooperates," he said.

The May 22 weekend is an unofficial kickoff to the summer tourist season. Canadians celebrate Queen Elizabeth's birthday on May 24, providing a long weekend for those north of the border. The U.S. summer season starts Memorial Day weekend.

Arthur B. Williams, general manager of the Niagara Frontier State Park Commission, termed the tenacity of the ice bridge a rarity.

Some of the ice, which is almost solid from the base of Horseshoe Falls to a point about a mile down the river, is 15 feet deep. In spots, there are swirls and eddies that provide an appearance not unlike that of the surface of the moon.

Loiterers Arrested

Two youths were taken into custody on Tuesday by Rhinebeck state police on charges of disorderly conduct, accused of loitering around the girl's dormitory at Anderson School, Staatsburg. Sergeant Walter Elstroth said Richard Stencel, 21, of Hyde Park, and William Peterson, 18, Poughkeepsie, pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Hulet Silvernale, Town of Hyde Park, and each paid a $10 fine. The judge also suspended 30-day jail sentences. The arrests were made by Trooper Thomas Clarke.

Men's Day Program

The Kingston Mission of the Seventh Day Adventists will present its annual men's day program Saturday 4 p. m. at 12 Foxhall Avenue. Study will be at 9:30 a. m. and preaching 11:45 a. m. The public may attend. Many out of town guests are expected.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 12, the 132nd day of 1965. There are 233 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1943, the battle of North Africa ended. The victory reopened the Mediterranean to allied shipping and ended the threat from the south to Egypt and Gibraltar.

On this date in 1775, American colonials captured Crown Point on Lake Champlain, N.Y.

In 1820, Florence Nightingale, the "Angel of Mercy" in the Crimea, was born. She fought public opinion to devote herself to nursing, and lived to see the profession rise to high prestige.

In 1892, a Confederate soldiers' home was opened at Nashville, Tenn., in "The Hermitage," which had been the home of President Andrew Jackson.

In 1938, the Japanese fleet captured the Chinese island of Amoy.

In 1945, Moscow announced the capture of 63 Nazi generals in scattered actions after V-E Day on the eastern front.

Ten years ago — Red China accused U.S. Air Force planes of violating its territory in battle with a MIG force off North Korea.

Five years ago — A note sent by Washington to Moscow said American U-2 flights over Soviet territory were only for defensive purposes and not aggression.

One year ago — A U.S. military transport plane crashed at Manila; 73 of the 83 persons aboard were killed.

Couple of Duties

RINGGOLD, Ga. (AP) — The main purpose of a new county patrol is to protect county road equipment and property that has been the target of vandals.

The two officers also have been instructed to stop fortune telling and soothsaying in Caltoosa County.

TILLSON GROUNDBREAKING—Legionnaires break ground at the Rosendale Tillson Post 1219, American Legion Home in Tillson marking the start of building and renovation project. A new 30 by 60 foot hall will be constructed and the present two and a half story post home will be renovated to one story. It is expected the project will be completed by Sept.

At the groundbreaking ceremonies are (l-r) George Fisher, publicity; Doolittle; John Delora, contractor; Michael Meigel, Roland Drolet and Aelred Quinn, building committee members and Sidney Conner, post commander. ## Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Forecasters of an imminent economic slowdown may have to revise their time schedules once more. Halfway through the second quarter, business on the average is holding close to the record pace set in the first three months of the year.

Not in Statistics
Many had predicted a letdown about now after what they dubbed the two feverish activity in the first quarter. But so far, slips here and there are being offset by continuing gains in other sectors. The general slowdown may come, but it hasn't registered in the statistics yet.

Two sectors of industry most suspect are steel and autos, both booming in the first three months for reasons that in part at least seemed temporary.

Steel stocks were being built up under threat of a May 1 strike deadline now postponed till Sept. 1.

Autos were being turned out in record numbers, partly to make up for time lost in last fall's strikes.

But auto sales are still high, if a bit below the record February levels. And the public has yet to register any letdown in desire to buy new cars.

Steel demand is reported still strong. Output is off slightly from the record tonnage poured in the week ended April 24 but is 9 per cent higher than a year ago.

Order Backlogs Rising

Order backlogs in industry as a whole have been rising. And inventories in general have been growing, due in large part to businessmen's belief that future sales prospects will mean busy production lines.

At the consumer level demand remains high for most goods. Retail sales of nondurable goods edged higher in April. There was one per cent slip in durable goods volume, mostly due to fewer cars being sold than in March. But total retail sales, at $22.8 billion, were 7 per cent above the volume in April 1964—and hardly a convincing sign of any economic slowdown as yet.

Employment rose 901,000 in April, and unemployment dropped 188,000. The 71 million Americans with jobs were as a whole enjoying higher incomes than a year ago. And all signs point to another increase in total personal incomes this quarter from the record set earlier in the year. The high rate of consumer spending, and the record level of installment credit, seems to assure little, if any, letdown in general economic activity.

Much of the fear of a slowdown comes from the greater-than-predicted growth of the general economy in the first three months of the year from the levels set in the final months of 1964.

But even if this rate of growth isn't maintained in the second quarter, that's far from meaning that the second quarter can't be better in total volume than the first. And at the half-way point there are no convincing signs that it won't be.

Cubs Present Skit at Meeting

Cub Scouts of Pack 17 met recently at the Tillson School. The opening ceremony was held with the presentation of the flag.

Den Chief James Rowles and Cub Scouts Brian Hampshire, Philip Kenny, Douglas Rowles and Eric Scott assisted the cub master in presenting gold arrows under Wolf to Cub Scouts Dennis Frisch, William Hanrahan, Frank Negro, Michael Priest, William Scott and a gold arrow under Bear to Eric Scott.

Cub Scout Joseph Rallo was awarded the Bear badge and Stephen Grimm awarded the Lion badge.

The cubmaster announced that the Cub Scouts will be going to Stewart Air Force Base Saturday, May 15 and will leave from the Tillson School at 10:30 a. m. Boys will bring their lunch and wear uniforms.

The next pack meeting will be held Monday, May 24 at 7:30 p. m.

Impatient Youth

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Used to waiting days to get films developed, Eric Lyons considered his camera which develops a print in just 10 seconds quite an achievement. His nine-year-old daughter, Madeline, wasn't impressed.

She fidgeted as she waited for the 10 seconds to pass so she could see the picture she'd taken and finally demanded: "Daddy, why does it take so long?"

NAMED FOR A CITY: It may not be of much interest to the average infant-wearer of diapers, but the city of d'Ypres in Flanders is the place to thank for the invention and first manufacture of diapers. The word diaper is, of course, merely a different spelling of the city.

LIFE IN THE OLD STATION YET—Logan, W.Va., is not allowing its unused railroad station to go to waste and ruin. Closed since 1959 when passenger service was discontinued, the depot plus adjacent baggage and freight facilities have been given to the town by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for conversion into a municipal building. An architect's sketch shows how the erstwhile station, constructed in 1921, will look after remodeling.

Regents' Report Calls for Change At California U

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If the University of California is to avoid future student revolts of the sort that have plagued its Berkeley campus since last autumn, the university must reorganize its structure to keep pace with the times that produce such socially committed students.

In essence, says a special report to university regents on basic causes of student unrest, as evidenced by the Berkeley disorders of the past eight months.

The 85-page report on a four-month study headed by Beverly Hills attorney Jerome C. Byrne was delivered to a regents' committee last week and made public Tuesday.

To Seek Causes
In a news conference Byrne stressed that he and his eight-man staff sought not to assess blame for the conflict but to identify its causes and propose a cure.

The report faults the controversial Free Speech Movement on one tactic—alleged abandonment of the principle of due process in its demand for recognition of the students' right of advocacy.

It faults the administration on several counts—ranging from alleged ineptness and vacillation in handling the disorders to structural flaws of wide scope and long standing.

Recommendations
It also offers 13 pages of recommendations which would: Create cardinal changes in the structure of the university and a great lessening of control by regents;

Grant students a larger degree of self-government and permit them the right of off-campus advocacy—taking positions on civil rights and foreign policy matters, for example—when such advocacy is not misrepresented as university policy. This question was the sparkplug and has remained a key issue throughout the controversy.

Strong Reaction
The first strong reaction to the Byrne report was voiced at the news conference by Board of Regents Chairman Edward W. Carter, who said, when asked how much weight he thinks fellow regents will attach to the report:

"It's stimulating, but I doubt they'll treat most of the recommendations with great seriousness. That's my personal opinion."

Chief among the report's recommendations was that the university's nine campuses be reorganized into "a commonwealth of universities," each autonomous, with a separate charter, and largely self-governing.

Eating the Evidence

A shoplifter almost got rid of the evidence before officers caught up with him. He lifted a loaf of bread and two oranges from a food shop. Police found him several blocks away. He had consumed about half the bread and one of the oranges.

Freedom of Movement Plays Part in Industrial Spread

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—America has so many freedoms that Americans are sometimes inclined to take them for granted.

One essential freedom is the freedom to move about, and who ever thinks about that?

One man who has given thought to it is Carl Madden, director of the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Madden, talking to a reporter, ticked off four points:

1. People are free to move anywhere they want to.

2. Industry is free to move where it wants to.

3. Money is free to move where it wants to.

4. All sorts of information is free to move where it wants to.

In sum, Madden said, the United States has achieved a remarkable freedom and efficiency of movement.

The picture has changed vastly since 1900, when almost three-quarters of all manufacturing jobs were located in the Industrial Crescent that extended from New England through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the Great Lakes states to Chicago.

Now, in the 1960s, there is rapid industrial growth in the newer manufacturing sections—the Far West, the Southwest and Southeast. Madden pointed out this doesn't mean that industry has not grown elsewhere, in the old manufacturing regions, for instance. It is a question of where industry is growing fastest, with the national total growing all the time.

"A country which has freedom of movement for people, industry and money capital will grow at different rates in different sections," Madden said.

"Over a long-time period the difference between the rates of growth are likely to diminish but I don't think they will ever disappear. It would be impossible to imagine that economic activity would be uniformly distributed over the country."

"As long as the economy of the whole country is growing, all areas in some sense can win. With the long-time gains in goods and services nationally, even the relatively slower growing parts of the country can share in the growth."

"We find the per capita income in the Southeastern states is still below the national average but coming closer than a decade ago."

"The Northeast, which once had the highest per capita income, has given way to the Far West."

And maybe all this could happen only in America.

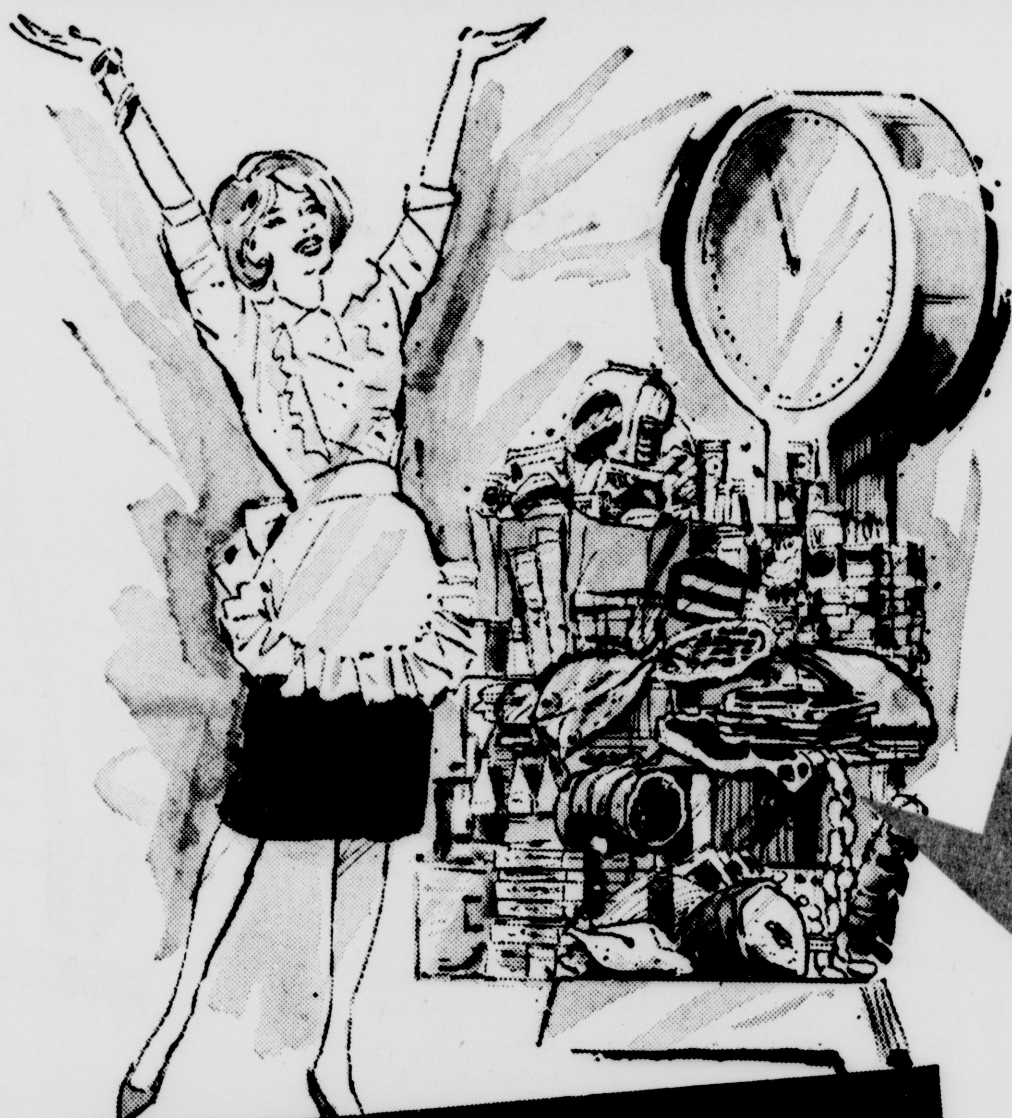

James Marlow is on vacation.

Rocky Weathers Stand on $1.50, Vetoes Others

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democrats were faced today with Gov. Rockefeller's veto of three more of their key labor bills after failing to override his disapproval of their $1.50 minimum-wage bill.

The Republican governor withstood the first legislative challenge of his veto power since his inauguration in 1959, then wielded that power Tuesday night to reject measures dealing with unemployment and disability benefits.

He vetoed measures that would have raised from $50 to $60 a week the maximum benefits for unemployment and sickness and from $55 to $65 a week the benefits under Workmen's Compensation.

Democrats, already stung by their failure to carry out a party pledge to enact a $1.50 minimum wage, accused Rockefeller of "callous insensitivity to the needs of the state's working people."

The Senate Democrats' drive to overturn the minimum wage veto failed when they were unable to produce the two-thirds margin—39 votes—needed to override. They compiled 32 votes for the action, with 24 senators opposed, including 12 Democrats.

Rockefeller moved quickly after the Senate action and urged the Legislature to press Congress for enactment of a federal minimum-wage increase from $1.25 to $1.50 an hour.

In announcing his disapproval of the worker-benefit bills, the governor termed the proposed $10-increases "a political maneuver."

He said they would cost over $80 million and like the proposed $1.50 wage—would drive industry out of the state.

Contractors Plan Dinner Next Monday

More than 200 electrical contractors and distributors of wiring supplies are expected to attend the annual dinner meeting of Mid-Hudson Valley Electrical Contractors at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston next Monday.

William Dittus, an electrical contractor in Kingston, is chairman of the event and will serve as master of ceremonies. Jack H. Haulenbeck, a Kingston resident and general sales manager of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, will address the guests.

The principal speaker will be G. Worthington Hipple, considered one of the top five men in the country lecturing on sales and merchandising. Hipple is currently retained as a marketing consultant for Fedders Corporation.

Kathi Jean lost 90 per cent of her hearing during a siege of the mumps when she was 3, but the handicap hasn't slowed her rise to stardom.

County Republican chairman; Supervisor Alexander Banyo, Town of Ulster and Donald Parish, town chairman. Upwards of 350 persons were on hand for the event, including many representatives from the city, town and county, as well as supervisors and other officials. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Jr., of Dutchess County. Frank Vigna and his orchestra furnished music for dancing. (Firestone photo)

Study Club Unit Visits Boscobel

Some 50 members of the New Paltz Study Club recently visited Boscobel, the home built by Morris Dyskman around the middle of the 18th century.

Several guides explained the restoration of the Villa and described the Adam architecture and its influence upon the design of furniture, carpets, mantle carvings and accessories. All furnishing of the Villa are authentic period pieces, some actually those which were in the original Boscobel.

Study Club members and their guests acknowledged their gratitude to Mrs. Gertrude Elliott, program chairman, for arranging the visit to this beautiful and elegant home.

Preceding the tour of Boscobel, luncheon was served at Dutchess Manor, Beacon. No regular business was transacted but several announcements were made. Mrs. Douglas Sheppard asked for names of members who will play hostess to boys from Green Cottage of the New York State Training School of Highland for a trip to the Catskill Game Farm Monday, May 17. Miss Mavis Taylor told of the garden project at the school and asked for volunteers to supervise the boys in planting flowers on Saturday, May 22.

Library Plans Series on Local Literary Greats

One of the projects of the Elting Memorial Library of New Paltz Department of History, established by the board of trustees early this year, is a series of mimeographed booklets concerning the literary and other activities of public spirited former residents of New Paltz.

The first of this series, now ready for interested readers, is a group of articles written by the late Elting Harp. Mr. Harp was born in New Paltz and spent his entire life here. During his lifetime he became one of the community's most prominent business men and most respected citizen. He was a constant booster of New Paltz and was instrumental in many ways toward its successful growth. Mr. Harp was an ardent sportsman. During the 1930's he wrote a number of articles for the New Paltz Independent about bird hunting, horse racing and other subjects.

The booklet now issued by the Elting Memorial Library Department of History contains some of these articles.

The booklet is published with the permission of the editor of the New Paltz Independent.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

It seems many changes have taken place in Kingston over the last seven years which it is difficult to realize when one lives here. Recently I spoke to a man who had been looking at the buildings of Kingston then and now once again, and asked "What happened?" He was astounded at the many empty stores, as though everything emptied out for some reason. The downtown area, he noted, changed considerably. The structures of brick seemed to remain intact, but the glass breakage seemed so strange, as though an unprotected city after some disaster. I did not realize the extent of this through the city, until someone else brought my attention to it. He felt, that time, nature and weather could not be responsible for all this, rather like some outside force or human hand did it deliberately. Stores in the best parts of town in the central and uptown section, good corner locations, even on Wall Street were empty, like after a gold-rush which had petered out.

Big Names Help Raise $250,000 To Aid Retarded

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer . HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some of movieland's most important husbands are now seeing their wives around the house for the first time in three months.

Which means that the 12th annual SHARE Boomtown party is history. And the wives of the men who run the industry no longer are rehearsing for their annual roles as chorus girls.

Tops Itself Annually

The SHARE party is the year's swinger — and each year it tops itself.

The entertainers this year included such names as Frank Sinatra, Andy Williams, Jack Benav, Lucille Ball, Wayne Newton, Phil Silvers, Joe E. Lewis, John Wayne, Dean Martin, Polly Bergen, Jo Stafford, Paul Weston, Henry Mancini. And even a Beatle-like combo that featured Dino Martin Jr., and Desi Arnez Jr.

But it's always the SHARE girls themselves who steal the show. For three months, they rehearse long hours and come up with routines that would make a Ziegfeld proud.

Some of the girls in the group are pros like Laraine Day, Janet Leigh, Barbara Rush, Miss Berzon and Miss Stafford, but mostly they are the wives of showbusiness executives, or stars like Mrs. John Wayne, Mrs. Dean Martin, Mrs. Andy Williams, Mrs. Howard Keel and Mrs. Henry Mancini.

Founded 12 Years Ago

SHARE was founded 12 years ago to help mentally retarded children. In the 12 years, the girls have raised more than a million dollars and built a clinic and guidance center at the Exceptional Children's Foundation. It's the only facility of its kind in the western half of the United States and so far has treated 25,000 mentally retarded children.

The most recent party raised $250,000, enough to operate the clinic for a year.

Everybody wears Western or historic garb.

The stars, besides entertaining for nothing, pay $100 a head and donate huge sums in an auction.

Wayne bought his wife, Pilar, a $10,000 necklace. George Peppard bought his fiancée, Elizabeth Ashley, a $4,000 coat. The auction is all clear profit. Many of the same stars and executives donate the gifts they later bid on.

Three From LWV Attending 3-Day Syracuse Parley

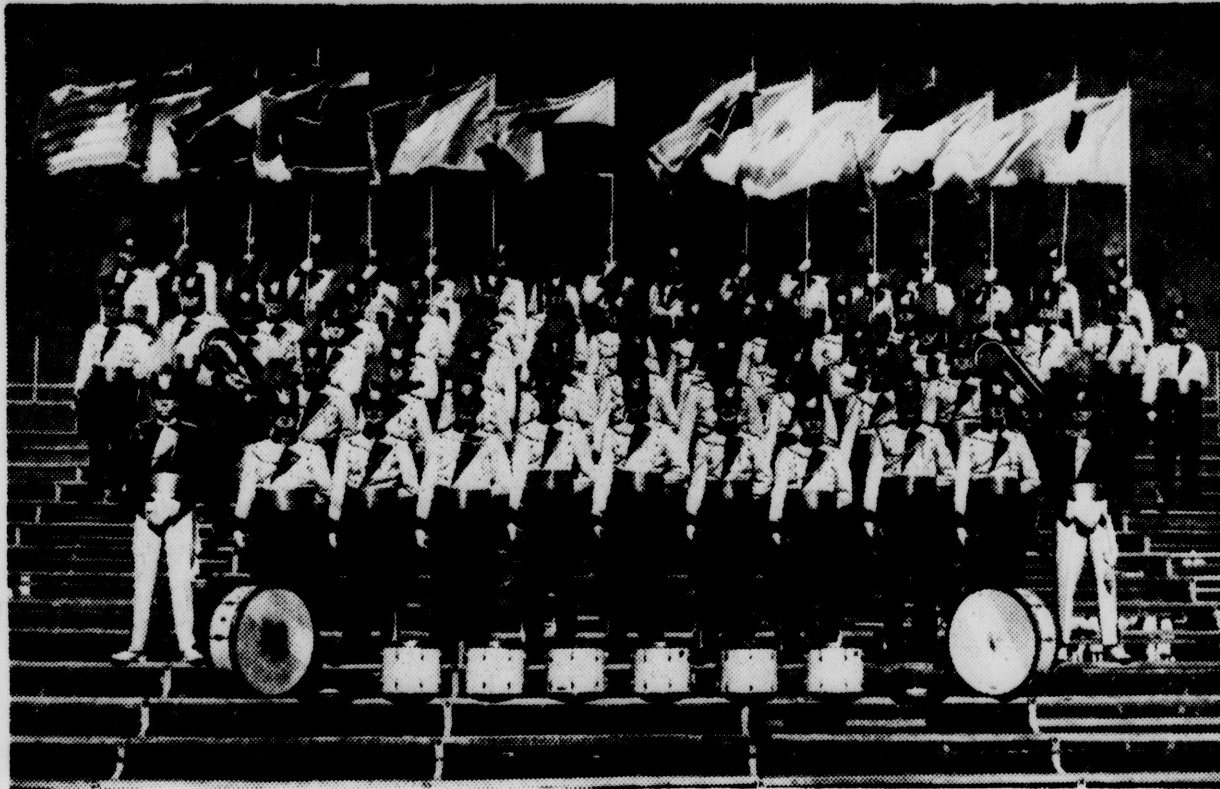

Mrs. Stanley Plasker, president; Mrs. Edward DeGroff, membership chairman and Mrs. William Hudson, bulletin chairman are representing the League of Women Voters of New York State in Syracuse today through Thursday.

Because of membership growth this year the local group will be entitled to three voting delegates. On the agenda will be the election of state officers, the budget, and a new state program for 1965-67.

Program suggestions were sent to the State Board from the many local organizations during the past few months and from these agreement will be reached on what all League in the state will study and work for together. It is very likely that apportionment will remain high on the list for concerted effort in view of the present situation in the Legislature.

Also, because many of the aims of the League are still to be achieved in the State Court System, the state financing of education, and the election system, the delegates will probably want to continue "watch-dogging" developments in these areas. Members in some parts of the state will try to vote in a brand new item in addition. All delegates go to convention uninvited.

The next general meeting will be held at the Kingston Library at 8 p. m. May 24.

BOSTON CORPS SLATED HERE—The Lt. Norman Prince Drum and Bugles Corps of Boston, Mass., will appear in the 11th annual Pageant of Champions at Dietz Stadium Saturday, May 29 at 8 p. m. The Bay State unit is the first signed for the marching and maneuvering contest, which will feature top corps from the eastern United States. Tickets went on sale today and are available at Potter Brothers sporting goods, 294 Fair Street; Rossi's Music Store, 49 North Front Street, and Fred Tierney, 61 Smith Avenue.

Annual Pageant Of Corps Champs Slated May 29

A six-time VFW champion, the Lt. Norman Prince Drum and Bugle Corps of Boston, Mass., will be among the units competing in the 11th annual Pageant of Champions at Dietz Stadium on Saturday, May 29 at 8 p. m.

The announcement was made today by Spencer J. Myers of the Criterions, sponsor of the marching and maneuvering drum corps event, which annually attracts upwards of 10,000 persons.

The initial appearance of the Grenadiers of Albion also was announced by Myers. The Grenadiers are one of the outstanding corps in the western part of New York State and the New York-Canadian Association, Myers noted. The remainder of the line-up for the Memorial Day weekend show will be announced within a few days, he said.

The Princemen, who have captured a number of sectional and New England titles, in addition to their host of VFW titles, will return to the Kingston pageant for the first time since 1960 when they thrilled a pageant audience at the uptown stadium.

"The Boston corps hasn't been here in five years and we were indeed fortunate to secure them for our 1965 pageant," Myers said, pointing to their tremendous popularity in the New England area. "We're currently negotiating with other corps of the same caliber as this unit, and we feel confident the signing of the Princemen will highlight one of the best shows we have presented in the past 11 years," Myers added.

The corps honors the memory of Lt. Norman Prince, a native of Boston, who was one of the founders of the famous Escadrille Americaine, later known as the Lafayette Flying Squadron. The unit was activated in 1946 by the alumni of the former Sacred Heart Crusaders of Malden, a Boston suburb, and is a half-time feature of many college and professional football games in Boston.

Major Crimes Are Up 20 Per Cent During Year 1964

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Arrests for major crimes in New York State during 1964 were up almost 20 per cent over the year before. All parts of the state contributed to the record advance of 19½ per cent, McGinnis said Tuesday. The increase was the largest in the 18 years records have been kept on trends of crime.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television's sleepy season arrived Tuesday night with a traditional harbinger — the premier of what the publicists call a "summer series," and the trade calls a "package deal."

To viewers with long memories, NBC's "Cloak of Mystery" was an old package in a new wrapping. It was a half-

Costly Rescue

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An ambulance and police hurried on an emergency call to find a couple sleeping in a car with the windows closed, doors locked and the engine running.

Fearing carbon monoxide poisoning, the officers tried to arouse the couple by banging the windows.

When that failed, they broke a window to unlock one of the doors. The couple, appearing groggy, thanked the officers.

Two hours later, the man presented police with a bill for $12.15 for the broken glass.

Police, after checking with their attorney, paid it.

hour program starring Simone Signoret and Lee Marvin which this viewer remembers vaguely from five seasons back.

Non-memorable dramatic entertainment is quickly forgotten and his little suspense tale was a frail bark when new. However, it is always interesting to watch Miss Signoret.

Within a couple of weeks, most evening television will consist of reruns from the past season and other seasons before that. These oft-told tales pop up like dandelions in warm weather because it is less expensive to make 30-odd episodes a year than 52 and because people are reputed to watch less television when the outdoors call.

NBC's Telephone Hour Tuesday night reworked a serviceable device — a salute to Tin Pan Alley. It was a fine excuse to play a lot of familiar old songs and to wind up with the inevitable "There's No Business Like Show Business" at the end of a tribute to Irving Berlin on his 77th birthday.

On hand were Hoagy Carmichael, who played "Stardust," Carol Lawrence, Gordon MacRae, and Leslie Uggams. With so much talent and such unbeatable songs, it was a fast-moving 60 minutes.

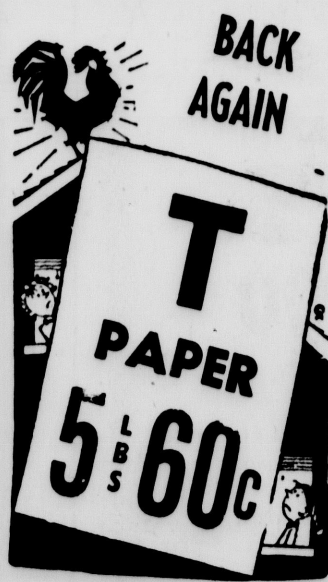

NBC's "Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson now has competition which might give the established late evening program some trouble. The new "Merv Griffin Show" launched Monday night on a syndicated basis in almost every detail is similar to Griffin's one-time variety hour on NBC's daytime schedule, which was a very fine program indeed.

Sawkill Reports $98.55 for Cancer

The American Cancer Society 1965 Crusade conducted by the Ulster County Unit proved a success in the Sawkill Fire District, according to a report made by a spokesman for the Sawkill Fire Co. Ladies Auxiliary.

The volunteers collected $98.55 from local residents. Co-chairmen of the committee, Mrs. Thomas Malone and Mrs. John O'Keefe expressed appreciation of the auxiliary to residents who contributed to the Cancer Crusade fund raising drive.

Assisting the co-chairmen were Mrs. George Liedtke, Mrs. Francis Joy, Miss Laura Joy, Mrs. Kenneth Whipple, Mrs. Douglas Dye, Mrs. Norman Killfoyle, Mrs. Lyndon Seaver, Mrs. William Ferguson, Mrs. John Dent, Mrs. William Quick and Mrs. Robert Raymond.

J. Wilson Timney, county chairman for the 1965 Cancer Crusade urged all residents, who might have been missed by volunteer solicitors in their community, to mail donations to the American Cancer Society, Ulster County Unit, 400 Broadway Kingston.

Stone Ridge Art Teacher Displays Work at Britt's

An art exhibit by Paul A. deLaura of Stone Ridge is being conducted at the Community Room in Britt's Store, Kingston Shopping Plaza, and is attracting considerable attention of area residents interested in art.

A native of Mt. Kisco, where he was born in 1931, deLaura is a graduate of Pratt Institute where he received a BS in Art Education. He has served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps and has worked as a contractor and designer of swimming pools and landscapes.

Hot Cat

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Curiosity nearly killed E. T. Beasley's cat. It also started a fire in Beasley's home. The curious feline got into Beasley's radio in his den and bit into a wire. The cat burned its mouth and started a small blaze which necessitated calling firemen.

Ever add a little bottled horse-radish to the liquid you use for cooking beef pot roast?

Fun, Headaches

Reaction Mixed To Skate Boards

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The spread of skate boards into New York State has brought fun to the youngsters and headaches to its law enforcement agencies.

While only a limited number of cities have banned the use of such boards on their streets, most city officials across the state agree that the boards cause more trouble than fun for the residents.

In Syracuse, the Common Council recently passed a law banning the boards on the streets.

The action came after several accidents involving youths riding the devices down steep hills into traffic.

The traffic code in the city of Oswego prohibits roller-skating, coasting or the use of any toy such as skate boards on any city street, except for the purpose of crossing a street at a cross-walk.

The boards are banned on the Cornell University campus in Ithaca where grade and high school pupils had been using the engineering quadrangle for "surfing."

Although skate boards may be ridden on the sidewalks of Utica, they are forbidden in the streets. If there is a complaint regarding a board, the board is confiscated.

In Western New York, Niagara County Sheriff James K. Murphy has banned them from highways. He says there have been numerous complaints of children skating from divedays onto highways.

DEATHS

LONDON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Sir Brunel Cohen, 78, founder of the British Legion and prominent as a worker for wounded veterans, died Monday. Cohen, son of a Lord mayor of Liverpool, was badly wounded in World War I and had both legs amputated above the knee. He represented a conservative Liverpool district in Commons for 13 years.

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—Lloyd Raymond New, 72, widely known artist, died Monday. New exhibited his paintings in several cities in the United States and in France, Germany, Switzerland and Mexico.

ara County Sheriff James K. Murphy has banned them from highways. He says there have been numerous complaints of children skating from divedays onto highways.

In New York City, the Greater New York Safety Council has warned parents to control their children's use of the skate boards. No definite action has been taken, however, by the police to ban the boards.

View From Halleck's Window Is Different

WASHINGTON (AP) — The view from Charlie Halleck's window is very different these days.

He looks up at the Capitol dome from across the street now, instead of sitting under it in the inner sanctum of the House Republican leader's office, as he did for six years.

The view is magnificent, but it takes some getting used to for the "gut-fighter" from Indiana.

It should be magnificent, because Halleck had first pick of all the choice offices in the new Rayburn House Office Building.

That was because he was voted out of his leadership post in January by a rebellion of "Young Turk" Republicans who installed Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan in his place.

Halleck had to move on, and so he became the first congressman to settle in the new building, even though it wasn't quite finished then.

Halleck sits in solitary splendor now surrounded by the souvenirs of bygone political wars. A row of miniature elephants parades along the edge of his desk, and there is a golden telephone, the same one he used on the platform at the Republican convention of 1960 in Chicago. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. gave it to him.

At 64, the ex-leader seems not quite so bouncy as in the days when he marshaled the Republican troops against the Democrats. But he insists a recent medical checkup showed him in good shape.

"The pressure is off now. I don't have to be on the floor for the opening prayer," he said in an interview.

Seldom on Floor

The fact is his stocky form is seldom seen on the House floor since his downfall from the leadership.

As to the party's crushing defeat last November, Halleck said, "I was here when things were a heck of a lot worse. We were down to 88 Republicans in the House back in 1937. We came back, and we will again." There are 140 Republicans now, and 294 Democrats.

He analyzed the election this way: "We should have clobbered the Democrats among the farm folks. But there was a sort of whispering campaign that if you elected Barry Goldwater the whole farm program would be out the window overnight. So we were on the defensive instead of giving the Democrats hell for not delivering on their farm promises."

On Civil Rights

"Civil rights—" He paused and said with a sigh, "I worked so hard for that. Both the Kennedy's bragged on me so much people in my district didn't understand."

But with Goldwater heading the ticket, Halleck said, "the colored people in my district wouldn't even vote for me." There was a note of disbelief in his voice.

Halleck said he has no quarrel with President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, but felt they were bound to be an issue in the next congressional elections.

"Many times down there with Democrat presidents I've backed them on foreign policy. It goes back to the Truman Doctrine in Turkey. I'd say, 'Mr. President, if that's the policy I'm for it.' But sometimes it seems we get called in when the sirens are blowing for a crash landing instead of when the whistle blows for the takeoff."

Halleck said he sometimes disagrees with the new leader, Ford, on policy matters, but he believes in party unity.

The "new image" Republicans who worked to oust Halleck said the party leadership must do more than oppose, that it must develop reasonable alternatives to Democratic programs.

Red Chiefs Push Sugar Output to Assist Economy

By RICHARD DAW

HAVANA (AP) — Before Fidel Castro came to power 6½ years ago, every Cuban knew the truth in the saying, "As sugar goes, so goes the economy."

After unsuccessfully trying to change that fact, today's Communist leaders are reviving the old capitalist refrain.

They are embarked on a program to push sugar production up to its pre-Castro level, and even beyond, in an effort to stabilize the island's wobbly economy.

The aim is to produce 10 million tons of sugar a year by 1970, almost double the usual pre-Castro crop.

This year's production already has passed five million tons, officials say, and it will hit six million by June 10.

The effort this year has consisted primarily of starting the harvest earlier than usual, of sending thousands of volunteers into the fields to cut the cane, and an increase in the use of cutting and loading machines.

A master plan calls for spending $451.6 million between now and 1970 to increase sugar mill capacity and further mechanize the harvest.

The money apparently will come from the Soviet Union.

The new emphasis on sugar production came after the failure of an all-out industrialization drive which Castro began on taking power.

That drive, plus a series of setbacks at the hands of nature, drove sugar production down to 3.8 million tons in 1963. Last year's crop wasn't much better. The government never released an official figure for it.

Agriculture in general has suffered from neglect. Food shortages plague the island.

Mid-Hudson Area Region Formed By Conservatives

Mid-Hudson Region of the New York State Conservative Party was organized at a meeting held in Newburgh last week, according to Mrs. Jean C. Rickard, member of the Executive Committee of the Ulster County Conservative Party.

Included in this Region are Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster Counties. This completes the organization of Upstate New York into seven regions.

Present at the meeting were Edwin Waterman of East Nassau, legislative representative of the New York State Conservative Party and chairman of the Capital Region; Chairman Richard Holsapple, Dutchess; Thomas Moore, Orange; Arthur Lyons, Putnam; and Joseph Rauner, Ulster; and Vice Chairmen Robert Engel, Rockland; and A. Johnson, Sullivan.

Also attending were A. Gage, chairman from Columbia County and Charles Rasky, chairman from Greene County, since there will be coordination of activities between these eight counties in the event of reapportionment. More than a dozen other representatives from these counties were also present to participate in the discussion of aims and projects.

Mrs. Rickard, Mt. Tremper, was elected secretary of the Mid-Hudson Region. The chairmanship and place of meeting will rotate by county with the next meeting scheduled, not later than August 6 by Holsapple, Dutchess County chairman.

Not Okay

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Weidner welcomed several young visitors to the OK Corral, which he manages.

Before stepping into the spot when Wyatt Erp and Doc Holliday shot it out with the Clanton brothers, one of the boys asked: "Was the Lone Ranger in the fight?"

The surprised Weidner said no, and the boys turned and left.

LAND OF BULLETS VS. BALLOTS (2) by Walter Parkes and John Lane

The United States ordered the U.S. Marines in on May 5, 1916 to protect American lives and property. It became apparent that we would have to intervene formally, so on Nov. 29, U.S. forces occupied the whole country and set up a military government. Peace was established and finances, the economy, transportation and education were improved. A satisfactory provisional government was achieved. The United States gradually withdrew, the last of our forces leaving June 26, 1924.

Six years later a revolution expelled the president and paved the way for a ruthless dictator who rigged the 1930 election to become president. He was Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, who began a notoriously corrupt, iron-fisted, blood-stained regime. But he did maintain order . . . the order of fear. His career ended with his assassination on May 27, 1961. During Trujillo's 31-year reign, Juan Domingo Bosch, a poet, teacher and liberal political reformer, had been exiled—mostly in pre-Castro Cuba.

After Trujillo's downfall, he returned home to great popularity and a sweep of the free election on Feb. 27, 1963. Among those who attended his inauguration was the then Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. But misfortune dogged Bosch's program of drastic social and economic reforms. Trujillo had left the country practically bankrupt. Bosch's austerity regimen met with widespread opposition. He was not a good administrator and quarreled with powerful forces, including the Catholics.

Ulster Academy Reunion Plans Are Progressing

The committee is going ahead with plans and preparations for the reunion dinner and party for all former students of old Ulster Academy, which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday evening, June 26.

It will mark the 50th anniversary of the 1915 graduation class. This was the last graduating class from this high school.

Only older residents of Kingston and vicinity will recall that, prior to 1915, when Kingston High School was established, there were two high schools in Kingston. The older one, Kingston Academy, was located on what is now Academy Green Park on Albany Avenue. The other, Ulster Academy, was located on West Chestnut Street in the building now occupied temporarily as Ulster County Community College. It was established as a high school in 1880, and continued as one until 1915.

In the early nineteen hundreds, intense rivalry existed between the two academies. Older Kingstonians still recall the exciting athletic contests between these two rivals.

Kingston Attorney Bernard A. Culliton was the president of Ulster Academy's 1915 class. In his day he was an outstanding athlete and contributed largely to many a victory for his school on gridiron and diamond. In later years he became widely known as a pitcher in semi-pro and professional baseball. Near the end of his career he was for two years on the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Pirates, including the year when this team was National League Champions in 1927.

During the last few years of its existence, Ulster Academy took in non-resident students from surrounding areas such as Port Ewen, Connelly, Hurley, Stone Ridge, High Falls, and other communities. Also many pupils came by way of the old Ulster and Delaware Railroad from the towns of Olive, Shandaken and Woodstock. This was long before the days of super highways and bus lines. Non-resident pupils often walked miles each school day to and from stations on the O & W, Wallkill Valley and Ulster & Delaware. The late Dr. William S. Bush, who was for many years an outstanding physician and chief of staff of the Benedictine Hospital, often recalled walking the seven miles from his home in Atwood to Binnewater to take the early train to Kingston, and then returning after a day in school, and a football practice in late afternoon.

During the 50 years since the closing of Ulster Academy, many of its former students have died. Many others have moved away from Ulster County and cannot now be located. In order to insure as much support as possible for the 50th Anniversary get-together on June 26, a great deal of help is needed to spread the word. One need not be a graduate to attend this affair. Anyone who ever attended Ulster Academy is invited and urged to come. It is a once in a lifetime affair. Husbands, wives and guests may be brought along.

As the time approaches other notices will appear in the press. In the meanwhile, the Preparations Committee will appreciate any promotional help which can be given by anyone who once attended this Alma Mater of Long Ago.

Rondout Valley FFA Members Attend Parley

Three officers from Rondout Valley Chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended the New York State FFA convention at Walton Central School on Friday and Saturday.

Future Farmer officers who attended were Steven Schneider, president; Edward Kelly, vice president; and Steve Kolodziejski, secretary. These students were accompanied by their advisor, Walter Elmore, teacher of agriculture at Rondout Valley Central School.

Highlights of the state convention included the granting of the Empire Farmer Degree to outstanding FFA members. State contest finals were held in public speaking, farm forum, and chapter meeting activities.

Approximately 1,000 FFA members, advisors, and parents attended the two-day convention. Many awards were presented to outstanding members and chapters.

Korean Students Put Crimp In Move for Ties With Japan

By C.S. CHIN

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean students, after a year of silence, are back on the warpath against the government over moves to bring about a diplomatic and political rapprochement with Japan.

The United States is caught in the middle of the dispute.

The student campaign seems to put a crimp in nearly successful negotiations for reestablishment of relations which have lapsed for 14 years. The reasoning behind the campaign is sometimes obscure but the fear seems to be that Japan will dominate South Korea economically and return to the commanding position it held during 35 years of colonial occupation that ended in 1945.

Not Backing Down

Demonstrations a year ago forced President Chung Hee Park to suspend his talks with Japan. But the president, a former general, doesn't seem inclined to back down this time.

He says normal ties with Japan will give the South Korean economy a needed shot in the arm. The United States feels the same way, would like to see unity between these old enemies who now are U.S. allies and in the forefront of anti-communism.

The student slogans have centered chiefly around abolition of the Rhee line which bars Japanese — and all other — fishermen from fishing in waters within as much as 100 miles from Korea.

The fishermen are believed less concerned than the students since the new agreements would limit the number of Japanese boats in the area and Japan would extend important financial help to modernize the South Korean fishing industry.

The deeper worry was spelled out by a 22-year-old student at Seoul National University, who said:

"Japan will try to make Korea a market for her own products as she did during her colonial rule. Billions of dollars of American aid money poured into our country before and after the Korean War but the economy is still very weak."

Notes Japanese Benefit

"I don't see how 400 or 500 million dollars of Japanese money spread over a period of 10 years could make any significant contribution, especially when the money would be spent in such a way that Japan would benefit from it."

Part of the final settlement is that Japan make a $300-million grant against Korean property claims and $200-million in government-to-government loans.

The United States comes in for criticism in an indirect way. "Earlier this century the United States served as go-between and helped arrange the Portsmouth Peace Treaty between Japan and Russia (ending the Russo-Japan War of 1904). This opened the way for Japanese annexation of Korea, in an effort to check Russia's increasing influence over Korea."

"Now, the United States is trying to justify an economic invasion of Korea by Japan in an effort to make Japan the leader among Asian countries in opposing Communist China's expansionism," one student said.

SISTER IS A MEMBER TOO

Q: My sister and I belong to a bridge club. We are eight members in all. The hostess at whose house the group meets, furnishes a first and second prize. When I am hostess and my sister happens to be the winner of one of these prizes, is she entitled to keep it, or because she is my sister, must she refuse it? One of the group feel that because she is a member of my family, it is not right for her to accept a prize in my house. I think she has just as much right to it as any other member.

A: Unless your sister lives under your same roof, she has as much right to keep a prize she wins in your house as any other member of the club.

His Cousin Is Police Chief

Q: My cousin is the chief of police in his home town. Will you please tell me the proper way to address him when writing a social letter? I have been addressing him as Mr. Blank but have been told that this is not correct, will you please advise me?

A: When writing to him socially, "Mr." is correct.

The Best Man's Fiancee

Q: My daughter is going to be married in several months. Her fiance has asked a cousin of his to be best man. This cousin is engaged to be married. We would like to know if, in courtesy, his fiancee should be asked to be in the bridal party. My daughter was in her company just twice and then only for a brief period.

A: His fiancee must be invited to the reception and she should also be invited to any parties that are given for the bride party, but it is quite unnecessary for your daughter to ask her to take part in the wedding.

Rusk Stresses Complexities of Problem in Viet

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk explained U.S. policy in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic to the Atlantic Alliance allies today and asked them to show how these delicate problems could be handled any better.

Rusk, newly arrived from Washington, went into a secret session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference hoping for understanding and backing from the 15-nation alliance.

The NATO foreign ministers met for an hour and 15 minutes in a semicircular session—one in which the substance of their remarks were relayed later to newsmen. Then came a secret session limited to delegation heads and one with press officers and other delegation members excluded.

Diplomatic sources said Rusk, in his talks with the Atlantic allies, intended to stress the diplomatic complexities of the Viet Nam problem.

Rusk is expected to tell other members that the Viet Cong seems to be massing its forces, presumably for the seasonal offensive the Communists often launch with the coming of the monsoon season.

Because of the explosive situation in the Dominican Republic, Rusk originally had planned to leave the London conference to Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who deputized for him at Tuesday's opening session. Then Rusk flew in from Washington overnight.

Informants said several developments at the opening NATO session Tuesday prompted the change of plans.

One development was the unrest voiced over the Viet Nam and Dominican Republic situations. Several foreign ministers expressed uneasiness over these American policies. Maurice Couve de Murville of France said the Vietnamese war would lead to conflict with Communist China or the Soviet Union.

Another factor was a complaint by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson that high-pressure sales campaigns by the United States were shutting Britain out of the alliance's arms market. He warned that Britain might have to consider the effect on its reserves of hard currency.

This was taken as a threat to cut British forces in West Germany, which are assigned to NATO, unless the cost of their maintenance is eased by arms sale to West Germany.

The United States, Britain and France formally reaffirmed that they share with the Soviet Union the responsibility for a final all-German peace settlement. The decision had been announced Tuesday.

President Charles de Gaulle's government had wanted the declaration to reflect France's new line—that it was mainly for Europeans to work out a solution of the German problem. This would have excluded the Americans.

A sudden retreat by Couve de Murville Monday night opened the way to agreement to the relief of the whole Atlantic alliance.

Subpoena . . .

pared the requested subpoenas and turned them over to the City Clerk with a request that they be turned over to Alderman At-Large Carroll whose signatures were required. At the May 4 meeting of the common council, Corporation Counsel Gold, indicated that his action would be "perfunctory" in dealing with the subpoenas phase of the requested probe.

"The subpoenas have been prepared. I have done what I was requested to do," Gold said today.

On Wednesday, May 5, I prepared the necessary subpoenas as requested by Alderman Norton and forwarded them to the city clerk with a letter of transmittal, and a copy to Mr. Norton. I told the city clerk it would be necessary for Mr. Carroll to sign the subpoenas and I requested when they were signed to notify me and make available the $2 necessary to see the subpoenas were served," Corporation Counsel Gold stated.

He indicated that he had complied with what he had been requested to do as corporation counsel of Kingston.

tended the paratroopers were five blocks outside the U.S.-policed international safety zone. A U.S. spokesman said they were inside the zone.

U.S. forces brought up a 100mm field gun and blasted two rooftops where the snipers were believed hidden. At least two Dominican civilians were reported wounded.

A rebel spokesman charged that U.S. troops have killed 22 unarmed civilians and wounded 11 since May 3.

The Organization of American States ordered part of its peace mission back to the Dominican Republic from Washington in a new effort to find a settlement.

The OAS decided because of the Dominican crisis to postpone an inter-American conference of foreign ministers set for May 20 in Rio de Janeiro.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived in London to explain American actions in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam before a secret session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In San Juan, P.R., an anti-Communist Dominican official said he could "add 150 names to the list of Communists in the Dominican Republic issued by Washington."

"Communists controlled the so-called constitutional movement from the first instant," said Antonio Bonilla Aybar Jr., 33, nephew of the Dominican ambassador to the United States.

In Peking, Mao Tze-tung called on the world to unite for a "tit-for-tat" struggle against the United States. The chief of the Chinese Communist party said in a statement broadcast over Peking radio that "U.S. military intervention in the Dominican Republic has aroused a new wave against U.S. imperialism among the people of Latin America and the world."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made an irregular advance today after three straight losing sessions. Trading was active.

Aluminums resumed their rise of Tuesday which was prompted by news of price increases for aluminum products. Selective strength among blue chips in scattered sections of the market combined to give the popular market averages a fairly good boost.

The rise on average was accomplished despite a spotty group performance by steels, motors, tobaccos, drugs and mail order-retails.

The market was mixed at the start but gradually tilted to the upside, increasing its rise as the session wore on.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 343.1 with industrials up 2.0, rails up .3 and utilities up .6.

Reynolds Metals, up about a point, along with Aluminum Ltd., ahead nearly a point, were the best gainers in their group. Alcoa and Kaiser Aluminum gained fractions.

Averages were supported also by Du Pont which moved up a point and a half or so.

A number of large blocks were traded. The biggest was 174,000 shares of Standard Oil of Indiana, off ¾ at 42. The stock erased the loss in later trading.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.40 at 934.32.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate and U.S. government bonds showed scant change. Trading was light.

HOW IT ALL BEGAN—It was 25 years ago, on May 20, 1940, that Russian-born airplane designer Igor Sikorsky lifted an ungainly looking machine called a helicopter into the air on its first untethered flight. Powered by a 75-horsepower engine, the craft rose vertically, then flew forward and backward around the yard of the Vought-Sikorsky plant in Bridgeport, Conn. Though there had been previous successful experiments with helicopters (Sikorsky himself built one as early as 1910), the era of the modern whirlybird dates from this flight. Like the Wright Brothers before him, Sikorsky did his flying in business suit, tie and hat.

Holcomb Elated On House Passing TB Funds Measure

"We are pleased to report that the House of Representatives has passed the Tuberculosis Program Appropriations bill and look forward to its eventual passage in the Senate," said Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, in noting House action of May 4.

Dr. Holcomb pointed out that report of this action had been received today by the TB Association from the National Tuberculosis Association, its National affiliate.

"We have learned that the amount appropriated for the Tuberculosis Program is $15,666,000. This is the full amount requested by the Administration, and was strongly supported by the National Tuberculosis Association, our own national affiliate," he added. "Included in this amount is $3,000,000 for formula grants to States, and the sum of $9,700,000 for project grants. These sums are largely in keeping with the United States Surgeon General's Task Force Report for support of the initial year of operations under the Task Force plan."

Dr. Holcomb further noted that the balance of $2,666,000 will be for direct operations, including administration of the program, field research activities, and all the non-grant recommendations of the Task Force Report such as automatic data processing, fellowships for physicians, and provision of necessary trained personnel.

"We think it important to note that our own Ulster County Tuberculosis program is governed by our understanding of both National Tuberculosis Association recommendations and those of the now famous Task Force Report in 'Tuberculosis,'" Dr. Holcomb further pointed out. "Once our group has met the carefully controlled qualifications and Contract requirements of our State TB-RD Association and National Tuberculosis Association, we then develop and activate our TB program in keeping with these timely and expert recommendations."

In conclusion, Dr. Holcomb noted that the Ulster County TB-RD Association had allocated funds to the New York group's Central Fund for study and research in 1964. "At our forthcoming annual meeting of the Association's Board of Directors, on May 19," he said, "the matter of further 1965-1966 support of this Central Fund will be considered. Local Association support of research is an important aspect of carefully considered, well-rounded Christmas Seal program," he concluded, "and is allocated realistically, and within the understanding of current research need. Like the government appropriation, our funds must be applied effectively down to the last dollar, and in must guard overinflating 'Research' reserves beyond their realistic, effective application. The balance of the Association's Ulster County Tuberculosis funds are applied with equal care to develop program of service and education in TB and Respiratory Diseases within our own country, and again within the invaluable framework of N.Y.A. and Task Force recommendations."

Negotiations May Resume Next Week For Cement Pact

Negotiations between union officials and the Alpha Portland Cement Co. of Cementon, probably will not be resumed until next week, it was learned today from an authoritative source.

The officials of Local 53 of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union called a strike as of last Saturday midnight and the 102 union employees were idled and caused a complete shutdown of the plant. J. B. Wilson, plant manager, said no meetings between management and union representatives had been arranged and indications today were that negotiations talks probably would not be resumed until early next week.

Management has declined to grant requests of the union for new job classifications, proposed new management rights and demands for higher wages. The old contract with union members and management expired on May 1.

School Board Budget Talk Set Thursday

Efforts are being made by the finance committee of the Kingston School District Consolidated Board of Education to keep the school tax rate for 1965-66 as close as possible to the last year rate, which was $40.209 in the City of Kingston.

The finance committee will meet tonight to discuss the anticipated expenditures and revenue and Thursday night at 8:30 p. m. will submit to the full board their recommendations for the tentative budget.

Hearing June 9
The board will adopt the tentative budget tomorrow and on June 9 a public hearing will be held at the George Washington School. The final budget will be adopted later in June.

Anticipated increase in state aid and decreased assessments are understood to be two main factors in predicting that the tax rate next year might show a very slight increase, possibly not more than 50 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The assessment last year was $43,737,306, and it is possible that that figure will be decreased at least $50,000.

Previous Budgets
The 1964-65 budget for the consolidated school district was $7,334,254 an increase of $617,304 over the 1963-64 budget of $6,716,950.

The amount raised by tax last year was $3,679,331 compared to the 1963-64 figure of $3,278,905.

The budget estimates for 1965-66 will be released tomorrow at the special meeting of the board of education which is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. at the George Washington School.

now total about 9,000 men, have been assigned more than 100 square miles of additional territory west of the air base to be cleared of Viet Cong. Originally the Da Nang Marines were said to be assigned only defense positions around the air base.

To the south, the battle for the provincial capital of Song Be appeared over as an estimated 1,500 Communist guerrillas pulled back into the hills after a fierce daylong struggle that cost the lives of five American military advisers and 27 of the Vietnamese defenders.

Estimates Given
The Viet Cong overrun Song Be, 74 miles north of Saigon, early Tuesday and held it for seven hours until U.S. air strikes opened the way for Vietnamese troops to retake the town of 15,000 people. Thirteen Americans and 66 Vietnamese were wounded.

300 Dead Cong Seen
A senior U.S. military adviser, Lt. Col. John G. Hill of Alexandria, Va., estimated the Viet Cong suffered between 600 and 1,000 casualties, including more than 300 killed.

The retreating Reds tried to ambush reinforcements dropped by helicopter at the Song Be airstrip, but the troops landed south of the field.

There was speculation that the attack on Song Be signaled the start of a major Viet Cong offensive during the monsoon rainy season, which severely hampers air operations.

Eight U.S. Navy planes made raids on North Viet Nam Tuesday night and reportedly did some damage to bridges and river vessels.

Has Close Call
In Saigon, Deputy U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson had a narrow escape when a load of ammunition blew up in a movie studio adjoining his residence.

Important Data
Johnson was standing in his yard about 45 feet from the center of the blast, which virtually demolished the envoy's garage and servants' quarters. No one was injured.

Police, searching the Alfa Studio which uses ammunition for props for war movies, found five unexploded mortar shells, five high-explosive grenades and a quantity of small-arms ammunition. About 40 employees of the firm were taken to the police station for questioning. Police officials felt the explosion was an accident.

In Washington, a U.S. Air Force squadron commander just back from Viet Nam told a

Traffic Problem, Bus Service Are Topics in Ulster

Traffic problems and bus service between Kingston and the shopping area of the Town of Ulster, were two topics under discussion at the May meeting of the Ulster Business Men's Association Tuesday night.

No State Reply
In the absence of President Elwood VanSise, Lewis Gruberg, vice-president presided, and as chairman of the Traffic Committee, reported there had been no reply from the State Department of Public Works in regard to a proposal that a traffic light be installed at some point between the Kingston City line and Morton Boulevard to halt traffic so as to give an opportunity for residents of side streets to enter or egress. He said a traffic count had been taken and submitted to the State and that counters had been installed but no reply had been received from the State. The Association feels that if a traffic light were put up at some point to halt traffic, especially during rush hours, it would give residents of side streets an opportunity to leave and enter Albany Avenue.

Julius Lipton of the Urban Transit Company spoke on the rejection by the Public Service Commission of an application to furnish scheduled bus service between Kingston and Boice's Lane in the Town of Ulster. Members of the Business Association have worked diligently to have such a service installed and now seek a review by the Commission.

Favor Another Try
Consent for operation of a scheduled hourly bus service, members of the Business Association, feel should be granted by the Public Service Commission, as a service to residents of the town, the city of Kingston and persons who commute to and from the area for work. It was suggested that the proposal be re-submitted.

Decals will be distributed to members of the Association to be placed on store doors to indicate they are a member of the Association.

Ronald Every reported on the Town of Ulster Business Men's bus to the Mets-Dodger game at Shea Stadium on June 13, when Ulster County Day will be observed. The function is being sponsored by the Kingston Old Timers Baseball Association. Every reported plans had been completed and that there remained but nine unsold reservations on the bus. The tickets will include the bus trip and admission to the Met-Dodger double-header. Reservations may be made on a first come, first served basis by contacting the Ulster Branch of the State of New York Bank.

Mrs. Josephine Kelly, chairman of the Social Activities committee, suggested the possibility of holding a clam bake for the membership later in the summer. Harold Machodoff offered use of his premises for such a function and the summer idea will be further investigated.

There was also a discussion on excessive smoke from the town dump as well as odor. It was referred as a town health problem.

Luci Declines Bid
NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Luci Baines Johnson has declined an invitation to preside at the traditional "Maid of the Mist" festival here July 10-18, explaining she has a summer job which will require her to remain in Washington.

The letter from the President's daughter said she had accepted a job with a Washington optometrist. Her duties will involve giving eye exercises to children with vision problems. Miss Johnson said, and she must be at the office whenever the children are there for appointments.

The invitation was issued by the Maid of the Mist Festival Committee, a civic group that sponsors the annual affair.

news conference that as a result of steady pounding by U.S. fighter-bombers, Communist North Viet Nam is "running out of bridges."

Lt. Col. Robinson Risner of Tulsa, Okla., said "We know we haven't stopped" infiltration of men and materiel from the north, "but we have slowed them down."

Berra Retires From Active Rank

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra is 40 years old today and he feels every one of those years.

He feels them in his back, in his legs, in his shoulders. He feels them when he stoops behind the plate. He feels them when he tries to hit a fast ball.

That's why Yogi Berra decided to retire as an active player.

Yogi made the decision Tuesday night immediately after the New York Mets, with whom he will remain as a coach, dropped a 4-3 heart-breaker to the St. Louis Cardinals.

"This is it," he told newsmen. "I'm through as a player forever. I can't do it no more. It's tough to play even once a week. That year's layoff did it."

"If I had played last year, I might still be able to do it. But a fellow my age just can't come back after such a long layoff."

Sonny Banks Still Critical

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks remained in critical condition today at Presbyterian Hospital where he was operated on for a brain injury suffered in a fight.

Banks, 24, of Detroit, suffered a subdural hematoma Monday night when he was knocked out by Leotis Martin of Philadelphia in the ninth round of a 10-round feature bout.

A subdural hematoma is a blood clot between the third level of the skull and the brain. It is caused by a hemorrhage from a severe concussion.

Martin, 24, kayoed Banks with a short right to the temple. As Banks fell he hit his head on the floor of the ring.

Banks regained consciousness shortly after the fight, but then weakened and was taken to the hospital. He was operated on early Tuesday morning when his condition deteriorated.

Winners Take Early Leads In Both Tilts

Sullivan County Community College won a doubleheader from Ulster Community, 8-3, in the opener and 6-3 in the seven inning second game yesterday at Cantine Field in Saugerties.

Coach Al DiBernardo's Senators, who have been hampered because of injuries in the pitching department, did some robust hitting but couldn't keep the visitors from denting home plate.

Sullivan did all its scoring after the third inning of the opener with a three-run surge clinching the verdict after the home side made it close with a trio of markers in the seventh.

Star Paul Butkins lost it and had relief help from John Wooten. Butkins, hitting near 500 for the season, rapped out a double and three singles for the Senators. Jim Burns, first baseman George Druttman and Butkins drove in the runs.

Has Control Trouble

Bob Glemming lost the second game for the Senators. He surrendered only five hits but seven walks kept him in constant hot water. Al Armstrong tripped for the home side. He also hit a double.

The winners scored three times in the first two frames and led the rest of the way.

Ulster has a 2-6 record and will play today at Dutchess Community College and will oppose the New Paltz Frosh team on Saturday.

Wappingers Wins, 8-4, Over Saugerties High

Wappingers Falls scored in every inning but the sixth and put a serious crimp in the pennant hopes of Saugerties by stopping the Sawyers, 8-4, in a DCSL contest Tuesday at the Falls diamond.

While a pair of Indian hurlers were holding coach Pete Kramer's nine to three safeties, the Fallsmen combed loser Frank Serravallo and relief hurler Bob Speirs for 11 hits.

In other league action, Arlington remained unbeaten with a 16-0 win over Beacon and Roosevelt walloped Lourdes, 17-1.

Standings:

| Team             | W | L |

| Roosevelt        | 1 | 3 |
| Beacon           | 1 | 4 |
| Lourdes          | 1 | 4 |

Wappingers tallied sole runs in the first and second and added two in the third off Serravallo before continuing the assault off Speirs.

The Sawyers managed only a triple by John Bond and singles by Speirs and Bruce Owens.

Saugerties will host Kingston this afternoon and Arlington Friday.

Matinee Racing At Goshen Track

Goshen.—A big program of 10 matinee races is being planned for Goshen's Historic Track this Saturday afternoon. The whopping schedule, all free to the public, begins at 1:30 and track officials expect to break last week's attendance record of nearly 3,000.

This will be the last of three Saturday matinees for the season. Sponsored by the Orange County Area Harness Horse Owners and Breeders, Inc., the series has allowed many untold horses to gather racing experience. Other trotters and pacers with previous experience have joined in the matinees to stretch circuits.

Breeders president, Vincent Essig, has pronounced the events a smashing success. "The way the fans have been turning out and the response from the horsemen when they were asked for horses, has been tremendous, their legs before hitting the track. This has been our biggest year yet."

The American Red Cross and the Mid-Orange Area Hospital will benefit from the sale of souvenir programs inside Historic Track.

Rosendale to Have Senior Baseball Club

Hawks Wallop Five Homers But Lose Tilt

State University batters slugged three home runs in the first inning, had five roundtrippers for the afternoon, rapped out 14 safeties and were given six bases on balls.

However, the New Paltz pitchers had trouble getting Albany State out and lost a 20-14 "football" decision to the upstarters in a four hour marathon contest yesterday at New Paltz.

Coach Al Miller's team spotted the visitors a first inning run and then took the heavy artillery to home plate. Jerry Hawkins hit the first pitch for a home run to knot the score.

After Bill Maher walked and Richie Lotze singled, Vince Colletta drove a three-run blast to deep left center and Joe Facioli followed with a solo shot, giving the Hawks a 3-1 lead.

New Paltz added two runs more in the second and appeared headed for an easy victory. However, starter Dan Zipkin didn't have it and neither did relief hurlers Jeff Bongard, Richie Lotze or Brian Schmalz. They were all tagged hard by the winners, who totaled 16 safeties and 10 walks. In addition, the Hawks made eight errors in the field.

Two Straight Homers

Maher, who scored five runs during the long afternoon, homered in the sixth with nobody on and in the seventh with a runner on for New Paltz.

Big John Cianfrini had a two-run circuit clout for Albany in the seventh. The big blow for the winners was a grand-slammer by John Odorizzi of Schmalz in the ninth. This gave the Peds a 20-12 lead and they overcame a late rally by the home side.

Kimball, who started the game in the early hours of the afternoon, was the winner while Lotze, the third New Paltz hurler, suffered the setback.

The Hawks will travel upstate on Thursday to meet Siena College in a doubleheader.

National Sets Opening Program

National Little League stages its 13th annual opening day ceremonies and parade Saturday. The opening game at Shults Stadium in Kingston Park sends the 1964 champions, Canfield Dodgers, against the Shults Paint Mets.

The festivities begin with a parade starting from Kingston High school at 1 p. m. In the line of march will be the six teams in brand new uniforms and members of the organization.

Invitations have been extended to the aldermen and supervisors of Wards 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, the league boundaries, to take part in the ceremonies.

The parade will proceed down Broadway to Delaware Avenue, over Delaware to Cottage Row to the stadium where the official pre-opening ceremonies take place.

Program at Field

Joseph Kelly, city editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman, will be the master of ceremonies. Taking part in the program will be league president Clayton Stalter, who will give the invocation; Mayor John J. Schwenk, Hubert Richter, District 16 representative; Dick McCarthy, Station WHGQ newscaster; and sponsors, managers and coaches of the team.

Team sponsors are: Canfield Supply Dodgers, Canfield Electric Braves, Shults Paint Mets, Veterans of Foreign Wars, P. J. Pates, Callanan Road Imp. Cubs and the Giants.

Spectators will see many improvements at the field since 1964. The playing field has been put into excellent condition and the building and dugouts refurbished and painted.

Weightlifting Champ

Probe Campus Trouble

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An Arizona Senate committee was to begin a probe today into student riots and other disturbances at the state's two universities.

A summons issued Tuesday by the Senate Institutions Committee was directed at administrators of the University of Arizona in Tucson and Arizona State University at nearby Tempe.

It followed nearly a week of spasmodic riots, a teach-in at the Tucson school and a recent speech at Arizona State critical of the administration's Viet Nam policy.

GOP Draws Only Token Support In Miss. Voting

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Democratic candidates smashed the first efforts to win voters in municipal primaries and today turned toward completing their victory in the general election.

The GOP staged its first primaries in three cities Tuesday, but its candidates drew little more than token votes. Unopposed Republicans in 15 other municipalities will join GOP primary winners in facing Democrats in the general election June 8.

Republicans had primary elections for mayor in Hattiesburg and Laurel and for city council posts in Pascagoula. In each case, the Democrats outpolled the Republicans by 9-1 margins.

The Republican party's state headquarters said this year's efforts were merely a beginning of efforts to secure "a vigorous two-party system for Mississippi at the grass-roots level, where the greatest mass of the strength of any political party lies."

ROK Soldier Killed

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A U.S. Air Force plane accidentally fired 38 rockets into a South Korean army position during firing practice today, killing a Korean soldier and injuring four others.

None of the injured was reported in serious condition. The F105 had been sent from a fighter wing at Yokota Air Base in Japan.

The U.N. command expressed regrets for the incident. It said U.S. Air Force planes had flown more than 2,000 air-support missions in monthly exercises without a serious incident.

Disagree With RFK on Safety Of Hudson Fish

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., says he is sure fish can be protected if another power plant is built along the Hudson River in New York, but sportsmen disagree with him.

They were among witnesses Tuesday at the second day of a hearing on plans of the Consolidated Edison Co. to build a $160-million project at Storm King Mountain near Cornwall, N.Y. The project has been licensed by the Federal Power Commission.

A House fish and wildlife subcommittee, which is conducting the hearing, has been told that a considerable number of striped bass have been killed at Con Ed's power plant at Indian Point, along the Hudson.

Critics of the new project say it will disrupt a striped bass spawning ground and kill fish. Kennedy, however, told the subcommittee:

"I cannot believe that our marine biologists are unable to offer assistance in meeting this problem on the Hudson."

Included in those taking opposite views were spokesmen for Sports Illustrated, the Orange County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and the Hempstead Town Lands Resources Council in Freeport, N.Y.

They deplored any project that might threaten Hudson spawning areas and contended that more study was needed to prevent fish kills.

Pickers Halt Practice

MELBOURNE, (AP) — Crowds of mushroom pickers swarmed over the lush Australian air force bombing range outside Melbourne today and disrupted a bombing practice for a squadron of Canberra bombers.

The pickers, including children, waved their loaded bags at the bombers swooping overhead. The practice had to be called off while air force trucks chased the intruders away.

Police Charge 4 With Smut After Brooklyn Raids

NEW YORK (AP)—Four men have been charged with selling and distributing pornographic material after simultaneous raids by law enforcement officers on two Brooklyn stores.

Police said they seized more than 240 reels of pornographic movies, two autos stocked with movies and over a ton of expensive modern photo equipment. The four are from the metropolitan area.

Police said the raids climaxed weeks of coordinated investigation which grew out of recent arrests in Albany, Schenectady and Troy. State Police Lt. James Leary said.

Police described the operation here as the "largest pornographic film factory in the United States."

Police are questioning the men about Upstate distribution of the films.
